ARTS and PICES

ASSHOLES OF THE YEAR

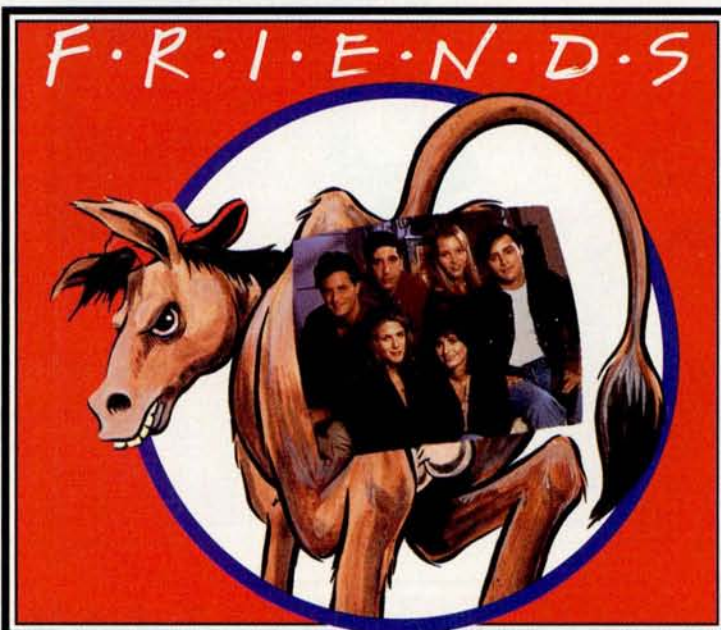

Like some mythical, diarrhea-spewing beast of the apocalypse, a hydra-sphinctered plague has descended upon America, raining psychic sewage in a frenzy of prime-time butt gusting. The insipid drizzle from the six anuses of this foul apparition pollutes our airwaves, our newsstands, our computer networks, billboards and discount retail stores. This single scourge with a half dozen poop-spitting faces is the Warner Bros. Television situation comedy Friends.

The omnipresent, simpering, feces-dribbling Friends smirk has saturated the national fabric like a backwash of liquid waste. The toxic network sludge has even seeped into the pages of America's Magazine: Friends are Assholes of the Year for HUSTLER's 22nd Anniversary milestone.

Taken one "lovable" character at a time, the guys of Friends are tough to stomach. Joey, as played by Matt LeBlanc, is a cross between a dumb Tony Danza and a fag Jeff Stryker. Prior to Friends, Matt was cover boy for the Spartacus: International Guide for Gay Men.

Joey's roommate on Friends, Chandler, is embodied by former Canadian resident and temporary Julia Roberts lapdog Matthew Perry. Perry is generously described as a Michael J. Fox clone, double dipped in smarm.

At the top of the Friends dick parade is David Schwimmer's Ross. The son of two Beverly Hills attorneys, Schwimmer improbably claims that he was "never into that whole Hollywood-glamour thing." As the improbable Ross, Schwimmer mugs and shrugs, putting on the face of a baby seal as it watches the club descend. All the guy Friends beg to be clubbed.

The "lovable" chick Friends would make passable grudge fucks and provide a weak excuse to watch the show. Dumb broad Phoebe, control freak Monica and spoiled bitch Rachel all have good tits, great hair and a nauseating false earnestness.

To watch one of the Friends twats feebly feign interest in the far-fetched, fictional concerns troubling one of the other two Friends ginches is to risk spontaneous projectile vomiting. Any television masochist who continues viewing as one of these self-absorbed girls pretends to listen compassionately to the woes of one of the guy Friends risks choking on that vomit.

The six megalomaniacs of Friends dysfunction in a constant tizzy of caring about one another. Only the miracles of modern plumbing and the TV's off button prevent America from wading up to its knees in puke.

"I couldn't make myself throw up if I tried," brags small-screen actress Courteney Cox, defending herself against speculations of bulimia. The rest of us wish we shared her immunity from her nauseous efforts.

Cox, Lisa Kudrow and Jennifer Aniston are the Friends girls in real life, or what passes for real life with them. They seem to be living in a different world.

In the Friends universe, young Friends enthusiasts "in several cities" stop Matthew Perry and implore him: "I hope you know what you're doing and how important it is. You're the voice of us in our twenties. Don't mess it up! And don't take it lightly."

In Friends land, righteously miffed Jennifer Aniston confronts a photographer and berates him, insisting: "We go to work, we love what we do, and we do it for you."

What Jennifer, Matthew and their Friends are doing is selling carbonated beverages. Their voice, for people in their twenties, is saying, "Milk the vulnerable, needy mooks for every penny they've got. Take any role in any shitty movie, exercise your craft for the profit of Coca-Cola, grab the money and run smirking into the hills."

In stores now are an official Friends soundtrack CD, an official Friends companion book, an unofficial Friends companion reader, a Friends postcard collection, the Cooking With Friends cookbook, a Friends calendar, Friends head wear, Friends coffee mugs, Friends clothing. These Friends aren't doing anybody any favors for free.

"I don't feel I have to apologize for my work," says one of the Friends, at the same time worrying that: "We're going to turn into McDonald's."

In Hell's sphincter ring, at Satan's burger stand, the Friends will weep to work the counter, but these Asshole buddies are meat.

Cyndy Garvey: Former baseball wife Cyndy Garvey now goes by the name Cyndy Truhan, but her behavior remains that of an irrational, selfish, harmful child. Garvey/Truhan's divorce from major leaguer Steve Garvey was marked by acrimony; Steve claims that Cyndy has continued a campaign of harassment for more than ten years, calling in death threats to current wife Candace. Cyndy Truhan's latest boyfriend, Hans Rockenwagner, alleges that Truhan became hysterical when he dumped her, staged a suicide attempt, stole his address book, canceled his plane reservations, filed unsubstantiated reports against him with the Santa Monica Police and targeted him falsely to German and U.S. customs officials. Each country strip-searched Hans for two hours. Cyndy's explanation for her antics? "I was mad at him." In a cooperative phase, Cyndy told police: "I don't want to go to court. I'd rather just go do some good counseling." Take our counsel, Cyndy: Remember to wipe after every dump, Asshole.

The Seven- Word Bitch

She sleeps around, throws up a lot, and she's into self-mutilation. Princess Diana sounds like a lot of fun to hang out with. At Prince Charles's staff Christmas party, the soon-to-be-divorced Lady Di allegedly made such a vulgar remark to her son's nanny, Tiggy Legge-Bourke, that the British press was not allowed to repeat the seven-word invective. HUSTLER can only offer this photographic speculation as to the nature of those seven infamous words and wonder why Tiggy didn't accept the luscious lady's royally arousing offer.

Marital Combat

Jean-Claude Van Damme, the lunkhead action star responsible for chop-socky turkeys such as Street Fighter and Sudden Death, can smash bricks with his bare hands, mesmerize audiences with his fuckable bum cushions and can almost speak English like a native retard, but he can't seem to hold a marriage together. Mr. and Mrs. V. D. had already split up and reconciled twice when the little lady called the cops on her high-kicking hubby this past January. Although the 911 domestic dispute did not result in charges against the Belgian bruiser, he might consider mastering an ancient marital art: Divorce-fu.

Carnal Cruise Lines

In August, the cancer-stick mavens at Marlboro unveil the Marlboro Unlimited, a high-tech train with smoking allowed in each of its 20 cars. Vacationers with half a brain (and both lungs) will shun this emphysema-trap-on-wheels and buy a ticket for HUSTLER's Carnal Cruise Lines. Sign up for HUSTLER's sister boats, the S.S. Titanus and the H.M.S. Pinawhore, and get ready for nonstop fucking in every cabin. Best of all, Kathie Lee Gifford is in no way affiliated with HUSTLER and does not screech the Carnal Cruise Lines theme song.

Batten down the hatches and unbutton those pants—thar she blows!

Ahoy, there! All hands on deck for wet and wild fun. What's your pleasure? Try shuffleboard, checkers, or simply lie back and enjoy the motion of the ocean. Sail the Titanus and "Land a ho!"

Dive down to the Happy Clam dining room and snatch a taste of our sizzling seafood. The Pinawhore's famous specialties, such as Cock au Vin and Fuck à l'Orange, will bring out the seaman in you!

Smile. You're being serviced by the finest in the industry: an impeccably trained Indonesian and Nairobiian crew that will bend over backward to please their first mate. Come aboard and stick it in the poop deck; Carnal Cruise Lines is expecting you!

No-Fat Fat Chicks

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) declared that "anal-leakage side effects" are no reason to deny junk-food manufacturers the use of oil substitute Olestra, also known as No-Fat Fat. HUSTLER readers have something saltier to celebrate: Tits and Ass Administration (TAA) approval of No-Fat Fat Chicks. No-Fat Fat Chicks have all the insecure need for sexual approval of fat chicks, without the cellulite.

Don't Let This Happen To Anna Nicole Smith!

For years, roly-poly Playboy Playmate Anna Nicole Smith served as an inspiration to young girls who work at fried-chicken stands by day, dance topless at night and save hard-earned pennies for their first boob jobs.

Then tragedy struck.

Barely a year after their marriage, Anna Nicole's 90-year-old, oil-tycoon husband, J. Howard Marshall II, came down with an utterly unexpected case of death.

The tragic part is that Anna Nicole didn't receive a plugged nickel of J. Howard's $1.5-billion fortune.

Displaying the quiet dignity that she brought to roles in landmark motion pictures such as Naked Gun 33 1/3, Anna Nicole somehow found the strength to throw on a tight, white dress and bare her tits at J. Howard's funeral.

Today, however, the party is over.

Spinning out of control on drugs and alcohol, accused of sexually assaulting every man and woman in her stumbling path, Anna Nicole has racked up so many lawsuits in the past year that the jumbo dreamboat was forced to declare bankruptcy.

Now HUSTLER readers can help. Simply fill out the coupon below and send $1.5 billion to prevent this succulent piece of ass from moving back to Mexia, Texas, and swelling up like Kirstie Alley.

Remember—you may be Anna Nicole's only hope.

After all, George Burns is dead.

Yes, I want to fork over a billion and a half bucks to that bulking, blond, fuck-inspiring flesh icon Anna Nicole Smith. Please send her to my apartment: (Check as many as apply.)

FEED BACK

Law of the Hand

Valeria is about the most sensuous woman I've ever seen (Valeria: A Heavy Load, April '96). Her eyes are to die for—and her body's not bad either. I noticed Valeria and the other girls in April's HUSTLER inserting digits into their tight, wet pussies, while Stacy and Jill are actually eating each other out (Stacy and Jill: Pumped Up, April '96)! Did the laws regarding explicit content in adult magazines change? I hope so; April's pictorials are the best I've seen yet!

—Andy
Glendale, California

HUSTLER's pictorials will keep getting wilder and looser, Andy—even if the laws do not.

Fraud Fighters

Me and my buddies are deployed in the Republic of Haiti, and we thoroughly enjoy HUSTLER. However, we have a few complaints regarding "Whore Leave," a letter sent in by R. E. of Johnson City, Tennessee (Hot Letters, March '96). In the opinion of every cavalry scout and infantry soldier in this line unit, R. E. sounds like a bedpan changer who wouldn't even qualify as a pimple on a real soldier's ass. No soldier before or after the Vietnam War has ever fucked in a Hanoi whorehouse, and the "basket fuck" originated in Korea—not 'Nam. Furthermore, the First Cavalry Division has never been based out of Tennessee. R. E. must be some pogue weekend warrior. Like our platoon motto states, his whole story "Sounds made up!" If R. E. was here right now, we would give him the ass-beating he deserves.

—C. H., I. H., A. T., R. A., T. S.
Port-au-Prince, Haiti

The $2-Million Question

HUSTLER needs more black chicks like Tabatha (Tabatha: Coming Up, May 1996). Speaking of which, who won the Two Million Dollar Muffs contest? I hope it was Whitney Houston, but Naomi Campbell, Sandra Bullock or Liv Tyler would do quite nicely.

—J. S.
Greensboro, North Carolina

No one has responded to Larry Flynt's $2-million challenge yet, J. S. In his interview on page 12 of this issue, Larry is also banking on Whitney Houston.

Hate-Love Relationship

Larry Flynt is a true icon. How can he sit there and have that fucking shithole, suckface, rotten-egg cunt Courtney Love representing HUSTLER in the upcoming movie based on his life story? Does Larry know about this? Who's signing the fucking checks? She is an insult to Larry, HUSTLER and all its readers. If that bitch really is in the movie, then fuck you, HUSTLER!

—S. T.
Duluth, Minnesota

The charming, affable Courtney Love is indeed one of the stars of The People vs. Larry Flynt, S. T. As for who's signing the checks—well, that's Hollywood!

Pure Nostalgia

In a time of cutbacks and downsizing, HUSTLER continues to be terrific adult-fantasy entertainment. The teasing nipple exposure on April 1996's cover was superb, along with the penetration and cum-shots. My only disappointment is the cancellation of another Larry Flynt publication, PURE. The pictorials and articles were sensual and informative. I miss it!

—H. O.
Long Island, New York

Readers who pine for PURE should take a peek at the insightful articles and probing pictorials in CHIC, HUSTLER's sophisticated sister publication.

One for the Gifford

After reading Kathie Lee Gifford's "Asshole of the Month" nod (Bits & Pieces, April '96), I hereby nominate Larry Flynt's Editors as next month's candidates.

21ST CENTURY FLYNT

LARRY FLYNT ON HUSTLER, HOLLYWOOD AND HOW TO SAVE THE COUNTRY

INTERVIEW BY AARON LEE * ILLUSTRATION BY ALEX EBEL

Publisher Larry Flynt has been called many things in his 22 years at the helm of HUSTLER. After one of the busiest years of expansion in the history of America's Magazine—and the announcement of an Academy Award-winning director's decision to film Larry's life story—words such as respectable, insightful and icon spill from the tips of some decidedly unexpected tongues. In a candid interview, Larry looks toward a future that grows ever brighter and assesses a past fraught with sex, drama and controversy—the stuff HUSTLER is made of.

HUSTLER: What are your three proudest HUSTLER moments since the magazine's inception 22 years ago?

FLYNT: Our first issue to make a profit—November '74—was a highpoint. That's when I knew we'd be around for a while. The second moment was printing the nude photos of Jackie O. and watching the issue sell out on the newsstand in three days. Passing a circulation of one million copies was probably the third.

HUSTLER: Has HUSTLER shaped sexual attitudes in the United States?

FLYNT: I don't know how much credit you want to give HUSTLER. All I know is, you can see on cable TV today what we published 22 years ago. I think HUSTLER has always been a mirror that reflects the private fantasies and attitudes of the society that we live in.

HUSTLER: When The Advocate profiled Larry Flynt, they mentioned radical surgery you underwent a few years ago. How did the surgery change your health?

FLYNT: Dramatically. After I was shot on March 6, 1978, it was necessary for me to take large amounts of painkillers. In 1994, doctors at Duke University eliminated the pain by cutting off certain nerve endings. Since that time, I don't require any medication.

HUSTLER: Have health improvements freed you for more hands-on involvement with HUSTLER?

FLYNT: A great deal. Even in my drug stupor, however, I made sure that nobody toyed with the HUSTLER formula and that we maintained a high quality of editorial content.

The People vs. Larry Flynt, slated for an October release, stars Woody Harrelson as fearless young Publisher Larry Flynt and Courtney Love as his late wife, Althea. "Oliver Stone was set to direct, but he became involved in the Nixon project," explains Larry. "Milos Forman stepped in, with Stone and Columbia Pictures jointly producing."

HUSTLER: Oliver Stone has been accused of distorting facts in films such as The Doors, JFK and Nixon. Do you have any concerns regarding the veracity of The People vs. Larry Flynt's script?

FLYNT: No script embellishment was necessary. There was enough controversy in my life already.

HUSTLER: Were parts of your life too gritty for the big screen?

FLYNT: In a movie, you can do just about anything you want to and still wind up with an R-rating. I don't believe the producers want a harder rating. This movie is not about sex. This movie is about life, censorship and the court system.

HUSTLER: How much input have you been able to give the filmmakers?

FLYNT: I gave a lot of help to the screenwriters—Larry Karaszewski and Scott Alexander, the young men who also wrote Ed Wood. My intention was not to change the script. Many scenes are embarrassing to me, in terms of my behavior, but it's all part of my life. My only concern was to make the script accurate. I helped the director,

Larry

"Adult reading habits cannot be limited to what's fit for children. We have to be careful about throwing up 'walls of decency' around us, or one day we'll wake up and find ourselves completely surrounded."

Milos Forman, with background information. Woody Harrelson and I spent a considerable amount of time together; he really threw himself into the role. Woody's done an excellent job. Courtney is going to do a very good job as well. If I were to cast the picture today, I couldn't do better than Milos Forman has done.

HUSTLER: Would Althea have approved of the casting of Courtney Love?

FLYNT: Yes, she would.

HUSTLER: How will the movie affect your public profile, as well as that of HUSTLER?

FLYNT: I never think about that. Twenty years ago, I was constantly in the limelight. I've laid low for a long time, of my own accord. The movie will probably reignite media attention, which doesn't bother me. Normally, they wait until you're dead to make a movie of your life; so I'm glad to see it happen. I hope the movie will put everything in the proper perspective. People know HUSTLER, and they know who I am, but their history is sketchy. They don't understand all the time I spent in court; not just the obscenity cases, but the Falwell-libel case and the contempt-of-court cases. The movie will explain the issues, the chronological order in which they happened and how they were resolved.

HUSTLER: What new perspective has the movie given you on your role in American history?

FLYNT: The movie hasn't changed my perspective at all. As a young man, I believed that one person could make a difference. I'm not so sure anymore. If Abraham Lincoln had never been born, when would slavery have ended, and would there have been a Civil War? Historians can speculate, but never really know. I'm not putting myself anywhere near the category of Lincoln. I'm just trying to give a basic example that everyone can relate to. When you try to figure out how significant a role you played in history, you don't want to overestimate your contribution. I don't know if I had ever read the First Amendment when I started HUSTLER. The only thing I wanted to do was make money and have fun. I had to stand in a court of law in Cincinnati, Ohio, and hear a judge sentence me to 25 years in prison before I realized that freedom of expression is something that you can't take for granted. That's when I started to look at social problems. I developed some very strong opinions, and I started fighting for what I believe in. What kind of contribution I was able to make, I'm not sure. I know I tried.

HUSTLER: Why is a major Hollywood studio interested in producing a motion picture about Larry Flynt, and not one about Hugh Hefner or Bob Guccione?

FLYNT: Because whether you agree with what I do or not, I paid a big price to be able to do it, and I played a part in advancing the cause of civil liberties. I know both Hefner and Guccione, and what sets me apart from these men is that they are ashamed to publish pornography. They would rather have made their fortunes publishing Time or Newsweek. Playboy and Penthouse masquerade pornography as art by wrapping it in articles that are of "socially redeeming value." I feel that pornography is art. It's hard to fathom something with more socially redeeming value than pornography.

HUSTLER: So should children be allowed exposure to pornography?

FLYNT: There's no evidence that pornography is harmful to anyone; even a Presidential commission came to that conclusion. But for the sake of argument, let's say it is. Cigarettes and liquor are harmful, but we don't ban them; we just restrict their sale. Adult reading habits cannot be limited to what's fit for children, or we'll have nothing left but Alice In Wonderland and Little Red Riding Hood. We have to be careful about throwing up "walls of decency" around us, or one day we'll wake up and find ourselves completely surrounded.

Although Flynt does not consider himself a computer whiz ("I'm not quite illiterate"), 1995 saw the successful launch of HUSTLER's first computer Web site, HUSTLER Online. Larry Flynt Publications is poised to grow with the cyberage. "We're establishing a multimedia division of the company to explore further technological avenues—CD-ROM, cable TV and the international market. That's where the future lies, and HUSTLER wants to play a part."

HUSTLER: Will HUSTLER Online ever replace the print version of the magazine?

FLYNT: That's an interesting question. Circulation rates on all magazines have declined significantly over the past ten years. On the other hand, HUSTLER Online grew at a rate of 500% last year. Why is that? I think it could be the convenience and privacy that the Internet offers. To pick up a copy of HUSTLER, you've got to buy it at a newsstand or subscribe, but if you have a PC in your den, you can access the magazine and read it right there. I think magazines will always be around, but the future will be with the Internet.

HUSTLER: When will HUSTLER Online include state-of-the-art features, such as on-camera models who obey typed commands from the user?

FLYNT: We're already doing it. If you access our Web site, you'll see an advertisement for video conferencing.

HUSTLER: How far has HUSTLER expanded worldwide?

FLYNT: We have 15 foreign editions now, including South Africa, Australia, England, Spain, Greece, Italy, Holland and Germany.

HUSTLER: We receive a great deal of mail from readers requesting hard-core, explicit sex photos. Will the magazine ever feature full penetration?

FLYNT: Yes. The only censorship we do is for the marketplace, not for legal reasons. As soon as distribution permits us to publish hard-core in the magazine, we will. Unfortunately, if you can't get retail outlets to sell your product, you won't be in business very long.

* * *

Flynt offered $1 million for names of perpetrators in the Kennedy assassination, went public with videotape of car and cocaine magnate John DeLorean, printed in-flagrante photos of Congressman Larry MacDonald, filed suit against the Reagan Administration when American journalists were denied coverage of the Grenada invasion and took out a full-page ad in the New York Times to question the facts behind the downing of Korean Air Lines Flight 007. The '90s find Flynt at peace with a quieter lifestyle. "I'm always tempted to get involved," he insists, "but figure, What's the use? I'm content to travel, take care of my day-to-day business and keep my mind off politics as much as possible." When provoked, Flynt's caustic take on the political landscape has as much bite as ever.

HUSTLER: What would it take to make you run for President again?

FLYNT: It would never happen. I used to look at politics as a joke. When I ran for President in 1984, it was a funny way to make a statement and at the same time promote HUSTLER. I wasn't prepared for the huge amount of support I received when I made my announcement. Thousands of letters poured in, and phone calls jammed the lines. People sent money, even if all they could afford was five or ten dollars. Americans are starved for someone who will tell the truth.

HUSTLER: Would you still run as a candidate for the Republican Party?

FLYNT: If you're trying to figure out where Larry Flynt is coming from, you have to look in the opposite direction. I'd been a Democrat all my life, but I ran as a Republican because I was wealthy, white and pornographic, and, like Ronald Reagan, I'd been shot for what I believe in. I see our system as having one political party with two branches. I relate to much of the Republican agenda because I'm a conservative on political issues and how I manage my money. But I'm a liberal on personal issues. That makes it almost impossible for me to find a place in any political party. I'll probably vote for Bill Clinton again this year. Not because I like Clinton; I simply see him as the lesser of two evils. At least he hasn't screwed up the economy. I would rather risk another four years with him than gamble on Bob Dole and what the Republicans might do if he gets in.

HUSTLER: Have you considered the Libertarian Party?

FLYNT: The Libertarian Party has been around for a long time, and they've never done anything. I look at them like I do Pat Buchanan. They're both far out there, while most people are moderates. If the Libertarian Party could start espousing a little more moderation, I think they could become a significant player.

HUSTLER: How would a Republican Presidential victory in 1996 affect civil liberties in this country?

FLYNT: A Republican victory could be disastrous, only because they control the House and Senate. Conceivably, the Republicans would attempt to get a Constitutional amendment banning abortion.

HUSTLER: Is the current political climate more or less conservative than it was when Ronald Reagan won office?

FLYNT: Much more conservative, due to moral issues. Politicians and churches are giving people guilt trips about why the streets aren't safe and why crime is rising among teenagers. They dismiss every problem as an issue of morality. What they're trying to do is change value systems within a family that government has made dysfunctional. Two members of the family have to work today—the man and the woman. No one is left to be a parent. The people who are parents today are bad ones, and they're bad because they had bad parents. The crisis facing America's youth is the consequence of this cycle. Until we solve basic economic problems, we're not going to be able to work on the very real issues that everyone is concerned about. Pornography, violence on television, images from Hollywood—these things are symptoms that have nothing to do with behavior or morals. Politicians must address this problem.

HUSTLER: HUSTLER has a long history of legal troubles and censorship battles.

"Me? ...I didn't see you shouting for women and children first, Mr. Holier Than Thou!"

Larry "A man who is serving two life sentences confessed to my shooting. He's a racist. He was upset with me for publishing an interracial photo feature. I don't look at it as who shot me, but what: a mentality."

Do you think you'll ever have to go to jail again to defend freedom of speech?

FLYNT: Now that we're on the Internet, that's a distinct possibility. Internet legislation has just been passed containing some awful language. The censors didn't even adopt the Supreme Court's definition of obscenity. They simply stated that if you put indecent material online, you can be prosecuted. Send your girlfriend a naughty note on E-mail, and you'll be violating this law. HUSTLER is presently on the Internet, and we're going to stay there. If that should result in my prosecution, I'll defend HUSTLER as best I can.

Larry Flynt has carved out a unique brand of celebrity and notoriety. Love him or hate him, the name Larry Flynt guarantees one thing: a reaction. "Most of the time people are very courteous. I'm always amazed when I bump into HUSTLER readers, and they say, 'Remember that cartoon back in September '77, next to the centerfold with red hair....'" Not everyone, however, sees the humor.

* * *

HUSTLER: HUSTLER is well-known for lampooning the entertainment industry. Now that you're traveling in that environment, have you had any awkward moments when meeting and dealing with Hollywood types?

FLYNT: Some isolated situations, mostly in the past. Years ago, at a bar in New York City, I thought I was going to have to punch it out with Jimmy Breslin. Bits & Pieces once featured Jaclyn Smith, the Charlie's Angels actress, in bondage; her boyfriend attacked me in Los Angeles. Woody Hayes, the famous Ohio State football coach, had to be restrained when I showed up at a restaurant in Columbus because we made him "Asshole of the Month." People think, HUSTLER did this cartoon about Newt Gingrich, and, boy, was it cruel; of course, Newt will never see it. That's where people are wrong. I don't care who you are; if you're the subject of a HUSTLER satire or cartoon, someone is going to wind up sending it to you.

HUSTLER: Which of the Two Million Dollar Muffs candidates do you feel is most likely to respond?

FLYNT: I think the most likely candidate would be Alicia Silverstone. She could do it without any risk of hurting her career. Her agent would probably see things differently. I think it would be enormous for her if she had the guts to pose nude.

HUSTLER: Which candidate would you personally most like to see pose?

FLYNT: That's really tough. It's a real smorgasbord. For my own interests, probably Whitney Houston.

HUSTLER: How do you respond to recent complaints about HUSTLER cartoons that depict lynched black men as playthings for KKK members?

FLYNT: It's the same humor HUSTLER's been running for 22 years. Not everyone understands that humor comes from misery and misfortune. People laugh for all the wrong reasons, not the right ones. Take a stereotypical situation, exaggerate it to a point that it becomes ridiculous, and it becomes funny.

HUSTLER: No one has ever been convicted of your shooting. Looking back, what are the most likely theories about who shot you?

FLYNT: A man who is serving two life sentences at a Federal Institution in Marion, Illinois, confessed to my shooting. He's a racist named Joseph Paul Franklin. He confessed to bombing synagogues in the '70s, shooting a black and white couple out jogging in Utah and shooting Vernon Jordon, the civil-rights leader. He was upset with me for publishing an interracial photo feature, Butch and Peaches, in the December '75 issue of HUSTLER. Authorities seem to think he's the guy. I don't know, and I don't really care. I don't look at it as who shot me, but rather what: a mentality.

HUSTLER: Do you subscribe to any Mafia or government-related conspiracies regarding your shooting?

FLYNT: No.

HUSTLER: Magazine distribution is believed by many journalists and Justice Department officials to be Mafia-controlled. Pornography is also notorious for its ties to organized crime. How have you coped with any gangsterism encountered in your long career?

FLYNT: I've known a lot of Mob people in my life. I've even been friends with a couple of them. Never really done any business with them. I've never had any problems. I've never had anyone try to put the squeeze on me, or elbow in on my business.

Today, Larry sits at the top floor of the Flynt Publications Building, a ten-story complex situated in downtown Beverly Hills. He travels often in his personal jet. "Budapest gave me a police escort from the airport, which I didn't ask for," Larry beams. "That was very nice." A man who has seen equal parts luxury and hardship, Larry Flynt is

Dragxina: Queen of the Underworld

TOTALLY LIMP. Directed by John T. Bone; starring Chris Cline, Adam Young, Kalina Lynx, Vic Hall, Anabel Chong, Lory Brown, Stephanie and Kelly Michaels. Videocassette: Metro Home Video.

Men may sprout lush, jiggling boobs from their bony chests. Men may shave and powder their faces, paint their lips red and mascara their eyes like whores. Men may dress up in frilly panties, garters and high heels and prance, whooping and shrieking in the gay, falsetto tones of excited schoolgirls. Men may do all of this and do it well, but they are still men, and men who suck cock are fags. Dragxina is a movie about such fags. The first scene features a chick, a fag and a fag who looks like a chick. Stephanie, the chick in this scene, blows both dudes, lets them take turns tooling her snatch, then lies back and watches as one dude fucks the other up the ass and sprays sperm on his buddy's boobs. A princess with a luscious pair of breasts and creeping five-o'clock shadow blows two dudes at once, gets tail-nailed and plays with her own princess pud. Anabel Chong sucks off a dude with boobs, gets cunt-fucked by him and takes a splash on her tummy. To some people, dudes with boobs may be a great discovery. While Dragxina is not badly done, the sight of fags doing fags elicits from HUSTLER nothing short of Totally Limp. —Mack Assarian

DRAGXINA: Stephanie shows off firm tits and a soft pud.

DRAGXINA: Chong takes it from a real she-man, Cline.

Born 2B Wild

HALF ERECT. Directed by Stuart Canterbury; starring Kaitlyn Ashley, Kia, Kimberly Kupps, Kimberly Kyle, Missy, Ruby Richards, Sean Rider, Mike Horner, Nick Knight and Kyle Stone. Videocassette: Pleasure Productions.

Politicians, like porn stars, work in a dirty business and screw people for a living; so it's fitting that Mike Horner plays a politico in the opening scene of Born 2B Wild, in which he celebrates an election victory by boning Kia and jerking off on her tits. Viewers will be doing some stroking by the time honey-complexioned Kimberly Kupps gets a post-coitus cum facial. A sleazy brunette gets fucked up the ass then licks off the cum from the tool of her turd hole's torment. Ruby Richards plays the top position in a jail-cell soixante-neuf with her lesbian cell mate. Ever-sexy Kaitlyn Ashley opens her joy hole to a sleazebag's thick dong before letting him pump choad on her jugs. This well-done film ends too soon, like a politician breaking his promises midterm. —Evan Wright

BORN 2B WILD: Sanders gives a snootful to Ashley.

VIDEO VIRGINS #23: Morgan spreads for a meat load.

Video Virgins #23

HALF ERECT. Directed by uncredited; starring Meridian, Nina Alexander, Stephanie Swift, Marki, Morgan La Fey and Blake Mitchell. Videocassette: New Sensations.

The females referred to as virgins in Video Virgins #23 are only virgins in the sense that a retread is a new tire. Like retreads, these virgins come with a lot of miles on them. That said, one-handers will find this film a smooth ride, watching each chick go through the routine: She yammers a bit about herself in an interview, then plays with herself, then sucks a cock, fucks it and gets her face sprayed. Highlights include bright, bottle-blond Nina getting her ass painfully reamed and brunet Stephanie's oddly sexy face as she gives an awesome, ball-sucking blowjob to one boner while getting nailed by another. Video Virgins will give strokers adequate mileage, but not much to write a review about. —M. A.

Shave Tails 4

ONE-QUARTER ERECT. Directed by Johnathan Morgan and Alex Sanders; starring Gina Delaney, Patricia Kennedy, Nikki Arizona, Winter Layne, Sid Deuce, Kyle Stone, Alex Sanders, Johnathan Morgan and Bobby Vitale. Videocassette: Metro Home Video.

Alex Sanders's phone rings. A woman on the other end needs her hairy bush shaved. With a toolbox full of shaving cream and pastel-colored razors, Sanders is the man for the job. He lathers up the naked belly, chest and snatch of a golden-haired harlot, chops off her short hairs with a few strokes of his disposable razor, then gets in a few strokes of his own in her smooth snatch before popping off on her mouth. Gina Delaney, sporting bright tan lines on her luscious mammarys, gets her cunt shaved bald and a cum facial. Sanders delivers the full treatment to a redhead (on top only) with wide, globular tits and sperm dripping down her face by the end of the scene. Patricia Kennedy gets shaved and schtupped outdoors; and stunning Sid Deuce gets it indoors on a kitchen counter—ending the scene and film with a thick gob of sperm crawling along her nose like an earthworm. A passable sex film, Shave Tails 4 scores low as a shaving film, since it features chicks with snizzes that are already as smooth and close-clipped as putting greens before they get shaved on screen. Shouldn't a shavers' film feature bushy, hairy, jungle cunts that pose a challenge even to the sharpest of shears? Anyone buying this in hopes of getting a truly nasty shaving film is getting clipped. —E. W.

SHAVE TAILS 4: Arizona gets creamed up for a close shave.

Jasmin St. Clair.

JASMIN ST. CLAIR

MAKING OF A GANG-BANG GIRL

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned. Jasmin St. Clair—a sultry, 23-year-old, Ivy-League graduate (unverified)—reports that she set her sights on becoming a human pincushion in the next “world’s biggest gang-bang” in order to prove wrong a boyfriend who had made her feel “ugly.”

“The final month we lived together, he didn’t even try to have sex with me,” St. Clair notes—somewhat rancorously—in an interview from her Huntington Beach, California, home.

After doing her first hard-core film for Metro Video last June, St. Clair decided to go for the world’s gang-bang record—currently held by Anabel Chong and 271 male costars—because she “likes challenges and feels records were made to be broken.” She also credits such childhood idols as Madonna, Ozzy Osbourne and Alice Cooper for influencing her taste in outrageous showmanship.

St. Clair promises that her upcoming performance will be “nothing like the last gang-bang—which was disgusting. In my gang-bang,” St. Clair states, “there will be no fingering, no sucking on my breasts and absolutely no kissing. After all, these guys—good-looking as we hope they will be—are meat puppets who don’t mean shit to me.”

St. Clair is careful to draw distinctions between herself and “other porn actresses who blow all of their money by the time they retire.” She’s using her porn-film income to start up a mail-order business and has investments in coin-operated gum-ball machines located on the boardwalks of several popular Southern California coastal cities. If her businesses are as successful in attracting customers as her hole is in attracting stiff pricks, St. Clair’s future is assured.

Jasmin St. Clair.

Bedlam

HALF ERECT. Directed by Paul Norman; starring Celeste, Nikki Tyler, Jen Teal, Amber Woods, Melissa Hill, Tom Byron, Mark Davis, Ian Daniels and Alex Sanders. Videocassette: Wave Video.

Bedlam is narrated by a mattress lucky enough to have Celeste’s shapely butt pressed into its face in the very first scene, where she leads Mark Davis’s liver-colored pud on a tour of her mouth and vagina. The mattress, however, is less fortunate to be appearing in a film that is directed with all the energy and pace of a sleepwalker shambling down a dimly lit hall. Following Celeste’s sperm facial, the mattress hosts Alex Sanders as he plugs Amber Woods’s turd canal; and Celeste bonks nasty Nikki Tyler with a penis prosthesis. In a teaser, Celeste is nearly raped by a cruel, fat man, but it ends, disappointingly, just as he is liberating her chest treasures from her bra. Nikki Tyler takes her turn at bat with the strap-on and reams two of her gal pals. And in a sleazy back alley, Tom Byron and Ian Daniels give it to both ends of a sexy brunette at once, before gobbing up her smile with gonad gunk. Bedlam is not a bad film, just mediocre—as if the director got up on the wrong side of bed when he made it.

—E. W.

BEDLAM: Tyler makes a dildo delivery to her pal’s snatch.

African Angels

THREE-QUARTERS ERECT. Directed by Rodney Moore; starring Nicole Jefferson, Lisa Warner, Catalina, Diedre O’dure, Vanessa, Seduction, Spice, and Rodney Moore. Videocassette: Nitro.

Each of the seven black beauties featured in African Angels is filmed up close, in lingering detail as she is methodically and lovingly defiled by Rodney Moore’s sperm-packed prong. In porn films, as in life, attention to detail pays off. Each scene in African Angels will keep viewers’ fists clenched tight and pumping hard, beginning with Nicole Jefferson’s stellar, first-scene blowjob in which she slow-sucks Moore’s rod into a sperm-splattering climax across her pillowy lips. Eighteen-year-old Lisa Warner—with girlishly slender hips and a taut belly—allows Moore to bury his schlong between her tight, black cunt lips before he choad-pumps her face. Catalina unloosens her tongue in long, wagging strokes across Moore’s taint and bunghole before he dumps ball curd on her smile. Diedre O’dure—a plumper with fistfuls of smoky-brown breast meat—lies back and licks Moore’s balls as he slaps his dong into coming across her fat, frothy lips. After Vanessa gets her face fucked, Moore uses a silver spoon to scrape the globs of jizz from her chin and pour them down her throat. Seduction and Spice close the film with a dual tonguing of Moore’s shaft as the knob end spouts frosting on their chocolate-cupcake faces. Oral copulation is a highly developed art form as practiced by the African-American beauties in African Angels; a first-class ticket to a dark paradise.

—M. A.

AFRICAN ANGELS: Vanessa’s heavenly booty.

HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD: Sanders and Horner divvy up Dallas.

Hollywood Boulevard

Well-scripted; dialogue that plays well; a storyline that isn't too far-fetched or mundane; passable dramatic performances by Kaitlyn Ashley as a frustrated scriptwriter, Mike Horner as an obnoxious lout and Jonathan Morgan as a freak wacko reminiscent of the big goof who sings in Smashing Pumpkins; refreshing outdoor and location photography; and a message of sorts ("There are no happy endings"): Mitch Spinelli's Hollywood Boulevard is more successful as a low-budget independent film than it is as a fuck flick. The first guy Ashley fucks seems to be tentative and lacking the confidence essential to a hard-humping porn stud. Boulevard's opening lay splays a full-bodied, plush, hooker-type trollop whose tight, young curves are packed with firm and fabulous baby fat, but a later girl/girl grope-and-grapple is liable to be half a disappointment to many viewers. Horner and Alex Sanders share the oral and vaginal sockets of a presentable blonde. A pixie slut backs her butt onto Morgan's face; and Ashley joins Anna Malle for a brief excursion upon the tongue and tool of Morgan. Hollywood Boulevard, a decent cruise into indecency, could have spent more time on the hard-core highway. —Christian Shapiro

American Pie

HALF ERECT. Directed by Paul Norman; starring Nikki Tyler, Jeanna Fine, Jen Teal, Melissa Hill, Amber Woods, Marc Wallace, Frank Towers, Mark Davis and Tom Byron. Videocassette: Wave.

Billed as a "uniquely American love story," American Pie stars the ever-refurbished Jeanna Fine as a consummate and stereotypical bitch. Ms. Fine, whose physical appeal has increased stunningly during her long sex-cinema career, is looking better than ever, especially when her ass and face are glowing beneath a sheen of splooge after the indefatigable Fine has squeezed cock in her cunt and sphincters simultaneously. Marc Wallace gives a long-haired brunette a ham-slapping, workaday boff from behind. Fine's chauffeur and maid steal time from the job to loaf, cuntlap and pussy-poke in a carpeted stairwell. A pair of porn chicks do what two porn chicks are so often paid to do. Fine and hard-boob, wonder-blond Nikki Tyler meet in a ladies'-room catfight that leads to Fine's head being shoved into a toilet and Tyler strapping on a dong to give the Fine bitch the wicked reaming she deserves. The only thing missing from American Pie is an extra slice or two. —C. S.

AMERICAN PIE: Tyler finger-doodles a Fine bitch.

ASS VENTURA: Kyle contemplates North's cock up her ass.

Ass Ventura: Crack Detective

HALF ERECT. Directed by Herschel Savage; starring Kaitlyn Ashley, Kimberly Kyle, Sid Deuce, Candy Cash, Eric Price, Peter North, Mike Horner and Jay Ashley. Videocassette: Pleasure Productions.

Humor is a funny thing, and so are parts of Ass Ventura: Crack Detective, but no one ever laughed through a hearty butt-fucking, which is why it's a good thing to see skimpy, blond Candy Cash snarling rather than snickering as she finger-mauls her mess of widespread vaginal flaps and hops her hind hole on the hammering, tumescent prong of Eric Price. The sharp angles of Kimberly Kyle's face go all soft and gooey during an extended, no-joke shitter stirring from the fat stick of Peter North. Kaitlyn Ashley and Kyle press their clits to a buzzing vibrator under the sky-blue sky, and Ashley entertains a pair of penises, which smear ball slop on either side of her sultry, pouting face. Nothing funny about any of it. It doesn't matter that Ass Ventura: Crack Detective is no king of comedy, but the movie could have used more royal helpings of cum on body. —C. S.

CRITICS ORGANIZATION AWARDS SHOW

On February 2, 1996, the X-Rated Critics Organization held its 12th-annual awards show, this year at the Wyndham Bel Age Hotel in West Hollywood, California. Borderline won for Best Film and Latex for Best Video. Honor of Worst Movie of the Year went to The World's Biggest Gang-Bang. Jenna Jameson picked up an award for Starlet of the Year, and Juli Ashton and

T. T. Boy were each singled out as Performer of the Year.

Astral-Ocean Cinema filmed the entire awards show and will be selling a video of it through Adam & Eve. Astral-Ocean plans to intercut the evening's speeches with actual hard-core scenes from the nominated films; otherwise, the tape won't be any more exciting than reading this item.

Viewers will not see the post-awards party hosted by triple-X performer Felecia and her husband. In a tastefully appointed suite high up in the Bel Age Hotel tower, Roxanne Hall entertained multiple guests with her mouth and genitals. While no awards were handed out for this performance, Hall drew standing erections and gobs of ball applause from many of those in attendance.

The Social Club

HALF ERECT. Directed by Jim Powers; starring Rachel Love, Heather Hart, Debi Diamond, Alex Dane, Kyle Stone, Dick Nasty, Warren Scott and Brittany O'Connell. Videocassette: Legend.

Banking on the theory that masturbation ruins a jackoff's memory, director Jim Powers has taken the 1970 Henry Fonda/Jimmy Stewart western, The Cheyenne Social Club, and ripped off its premise point-blank. But how many wankers are going to remember or care once perky, petite Brittany O'Connell winks her button-cute poop hole as Dick Nasty's slick prick slides into the cozy trim below? Three features separate The Social Club from rote mediocrity: (1) Plenty of outdoor boffing, (2) the costumes, which bedeck the studs in leather chaps and cowboy hats and festoon the sluts in old-style satin and lace, (3) the sopping degree of wetness achieved during the mouth-to-snatch segments. Pussies are expected to be moist, but the snatches of The Social Club overflow with spit and cunt slobber for a glistening, sloppy, liquid effect that will have beaver-eating viewers drooling on their chins.

—C. S.

Pearl of the Orient

HALF ERECT. Directed by Mitch Spinelli; starring Kia, Cumisha, Stacy Nichols, Amber Woods, Valeria, Dallas D'Amour, Frank Towers, Alex Sanders, Vince Vouyer and Michael J. Cox. Videocassette: Intropics Video.

China doll-obsessives be warned that Pearl of the Orient features only one lovely who is indisputably of the Asian persuasion; the bulk of Pearl's performing slots break down categorically into three blond holes and one dusky-skinned brunette who might be distantly descended from the continent of Africa. Simmering in a thin coat of her own sweat, Germanic, blond Valeria holds one of her ankles up beside her ear as a hungry man makes a sloppy meal of the flap-doodle soup between her thighs. Alex Sanders catches Kia's Asian flue and milks his prick's vaccine onto her chin and chest. A tough-looking blonde and an indeterminable Far Eastern floozie trade off sucks on a bulging boff stick; and a little, pseudo Chinaman makes like a jockey on the big buns of a towering blonde and a bucking-butt, dark-skinned doxie.

Orient is a few Pearls short of the full necklace.

—C. S.

PEARL OF THE ORIENT: Valeria gives up her gash.

Nurse Nookie

HALF ERECT. Directed by Rodney Moore; starring Peach, Tia, Blaze, Sophia, Kendall, Kyle Stone, Wolf Savage and Rodney Moore. Videocassette: Nitro.

The cornerstone of any Rodney Moore video is the cum-shot, and Nurse Nookie is exceptionally true to Moore's blue-movie blueprint. Moore's putz produces double the jizz of any two typical XXX wad dispensers, the goop is always aimed where it does the most good and the splooge baths in Moore's scum montages are generally shown at least twice, with the second version coming as a sort of instant cock-snot replay. One squirming, squeamish slot takes her tablespoons of man chowder through a funnel; two brunet ginches spit loogies of cum from one mouth to the other—and then the travesty is shown again! Beneath these onslaughts of chunky semen, the faces of Moore's actresses transform from the smirks of impertinent, saucy tarts to the terrified, disgusted masks of slime-smearred victims. Nurse Nookie abandons Moore's staple of low-, lower-, lowest-level skags in favor of a few broads who, though sleazy, could be fucked without eternal shame. Nurse Nookie is some of what the doctor ordered. —C. S.

NURSE NOOKIE: Tongue to slit, Sophia meets Blaze.

Fully Correct

After years of stoically enduring harsh criticism of his work within the pages of HUSTLER's Erotic Entertainment, XXX director Paul Thomas finally scored a Fully Erect rating for his film Borderline. Unfortunately, our review, which appeared in the May 1996 issue of HUSTLER, was in error: The inadvertent omission of Paul Thomas's name as director of the Fully Erect Borderline is a mistake for which Erotic Entertainment extends its apologies.

Kathie Lee is the sexiest mother in America! Print some hot photos of Kathie Lee instead of giving her such a hard time.

—J. E.
Perris, California

If God-fearing Kathie Lee ever let down her hair and unlocked her chastity belt, J. E., HUSTLER's Editors would be glad to give her a different kind of hard time.

Smear the Queers

HUSTLER is the best. The girls in your pictorials don't look tired or worn-out, and they're hot as fuck. The guys, however, bother me; not one of them has a hard dick! Don't get the wrong idea—I hate fags. Seeing limp dicks next to all that gorgeous gash leads me to believe that the male models are queer. I don't like the idea of a fag soiling the pages of your great magazine.

—R. S.
Cameron, North Carolina

I buy HUSTLER to look at beautiful women. It pisses me off to see a bunch of hard cocks and ads for "Man-to-Man" phone sex. In the April '96 pictorial Sebastian and Jasmine: Captain's Log, there's not one photo of Jasmine's pussy, but plenty of close-ups on Sebastian's erect dick. Too many HUSTLER girls have a finger stuck in their cunt, covering up their clit—my favorite part of the pussy to lick and suck. Overall, your models are absolutely stunning, but not the man-to-man queers.

—M. M.
Clarksville, Tennessee

That's the first letter to HUSTLER requesting less penetration, M. M. As for all those erect members in the magazine, why not trade copies with R. S.? He can't find a stiff prick to save his life.

Unfair Trade Act

Greetings from a Louisiana towboat crew. We work on the river for weeks at a time. One guy on board is a baker, who makes Betty Crocker look like a sick bitch. Other than his cooking, the only enjoyment we have is HUSTLER. Often, we trade magazines between boats, but all they have to offer is Playboy—all articles and no women. We're trying to make HUSTLER a regular part of our supplies because all the boats want our magazines. Keep up the good work.

—The T. W. E. Crew
Port Allen, Louisiana

Potty Mouth

The April '96 HUSTLER kicked ass, as usual. Regarding HUSTLER's April Fool joke, don't pull any shit like that again (Behind the Scenes at a HUSTLER Board Meeting, April '96). Whoever thought that up can suck my grimy bung. Also, the "AIDS Girl" bitch, Caroline Winner, can eat my shit (AIDS Girl: Giving All She's Got in Revenge for Getting, April '96)! Finally, check out April's centerfold (Heather: Heat Stroke, April '96). Am I insane, or does Heather resemble a certain chick who I think got wasted by a washed-up football star?

—J. H.
Arlington, Virginia

Heather does resemble Nicole Simpson, J. H., and you just might be insane.

Super Hole

What's the story with 33-year-old Carol from Clearwater, Florida, the self-proclaimed Florida Sinkhole (Beaver Hunt, March '96)? She made the Texas Tunnel look like a virgin! Carol should call herself the Florida Stinkhole. Her boyfriend must be Mr. Ed! I must admit, she did make a good sideshow to the real beauties, like 19-year-old Lindsay. Lindsay is the sexiest woman ever to appear in Beaver Hunt! Thanks for featuring her; I guess one bad pussy doesn't spoil the bunch.

—J. F.
Waynesburg, Pennsylvania

Carol is a lady, J. F.; show some class and try to keep an open mind. A very open mind.

Blown Out of Proportion

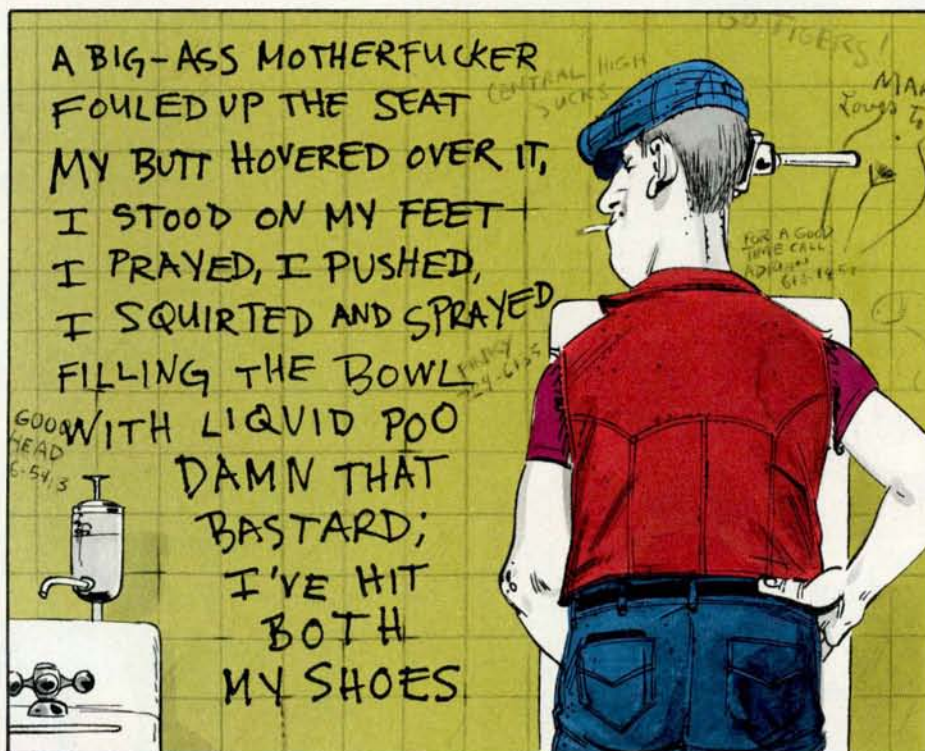

I usually resent HUSTLER's anti-black bias, but April's "Planet Black" was thought-provoking and funny (Bits & Pieces, April '96). Please show less ejaculate on your models' faces and bodies. And if HUSTLER must show penises, please show small, realistically proportioned penises. Thank you very much.

—T. C.
Mahwah, New Jersey

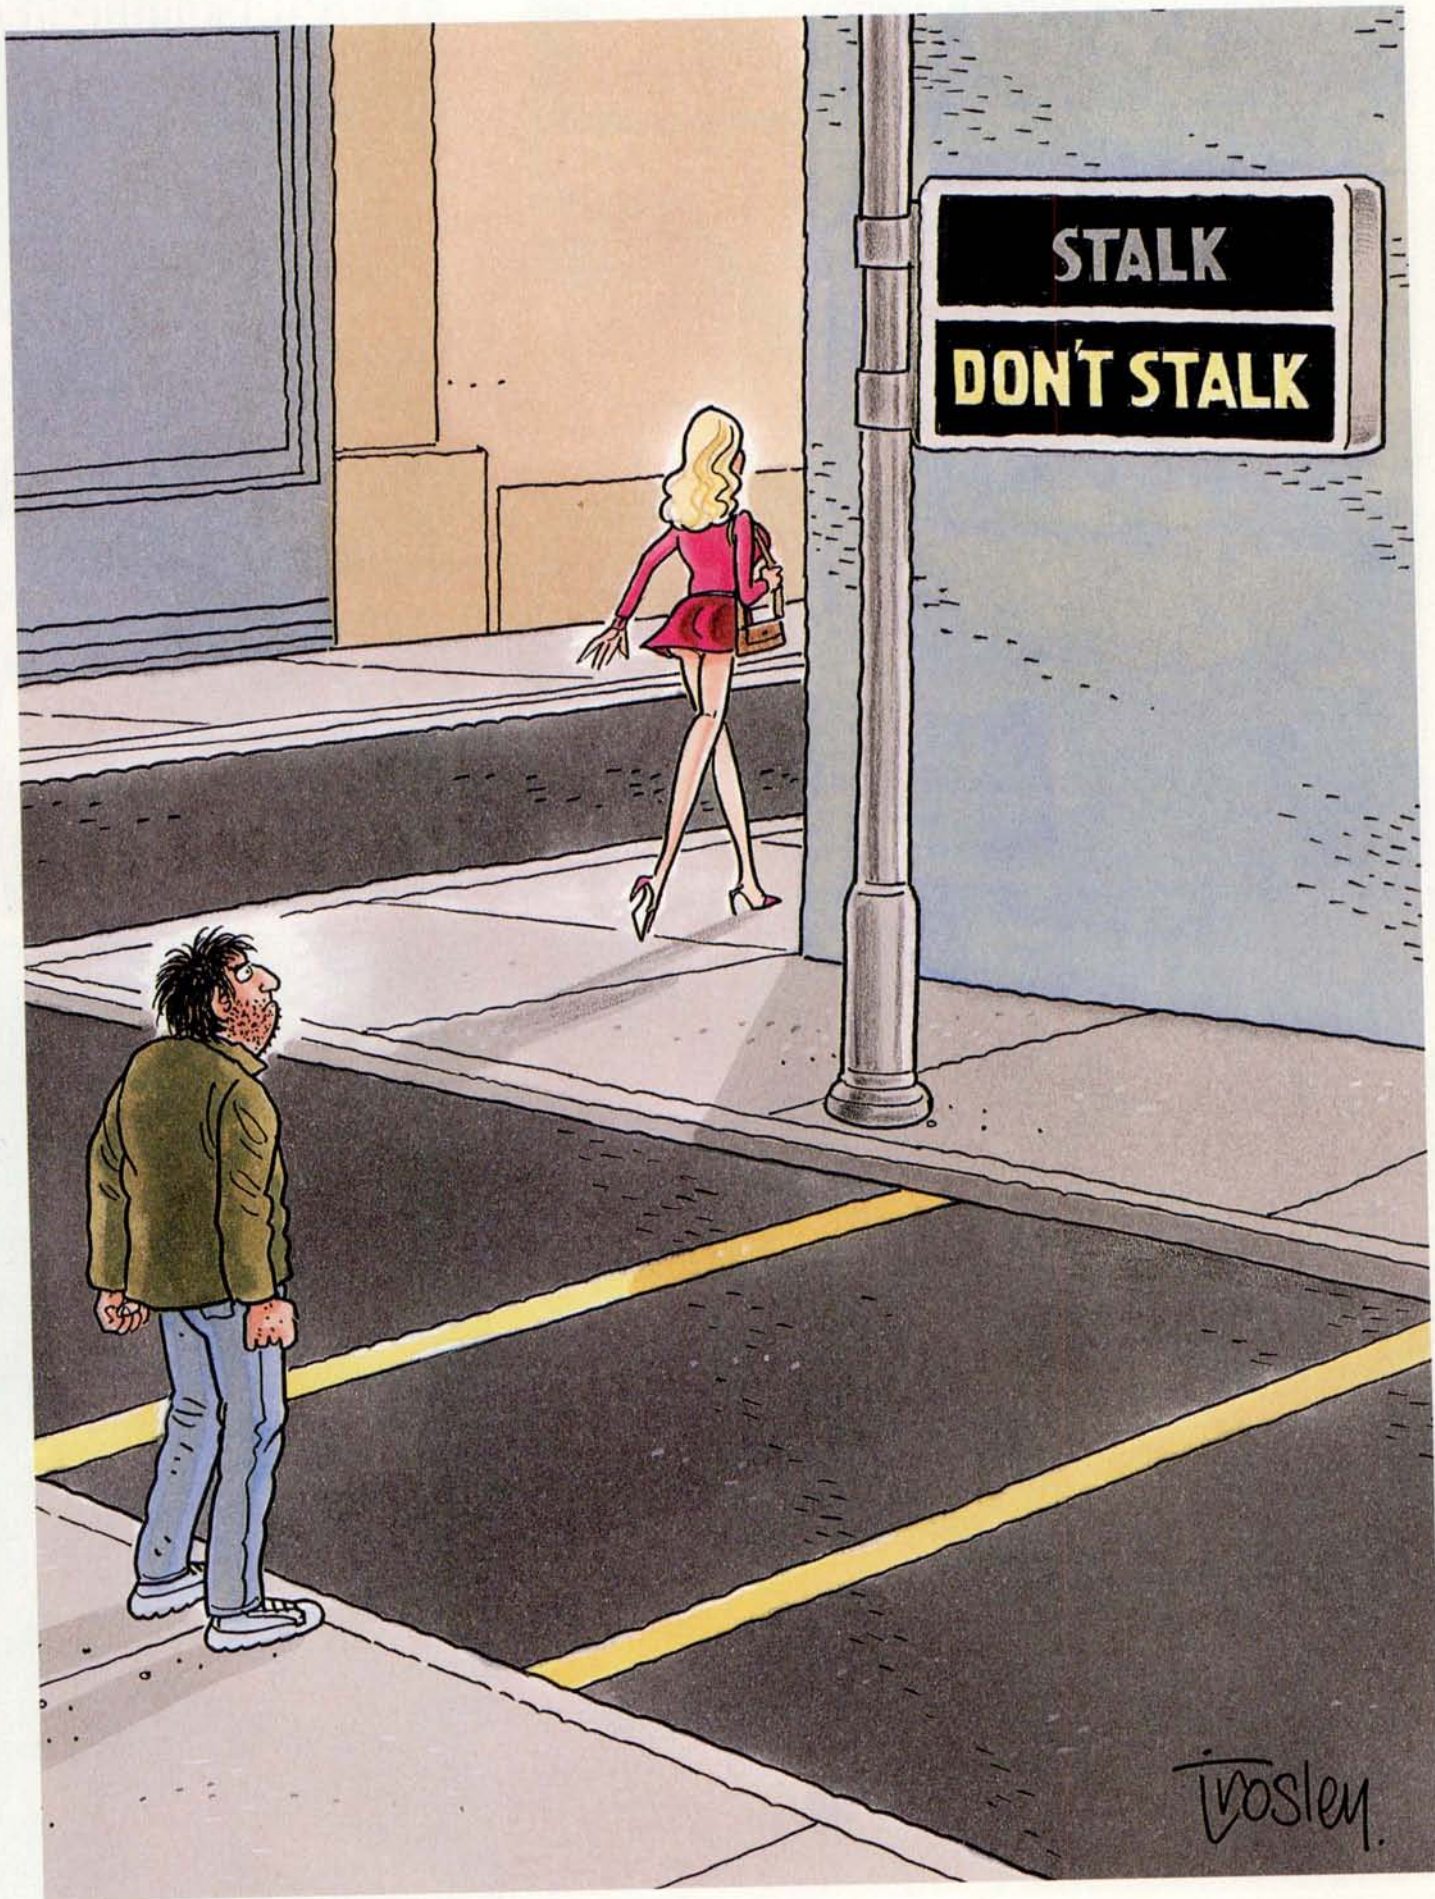

That's funny, T. C.—HUSTLER also received a letter from a black reader praising "Planet Black," but he didn't mention unrealistically large penises.

Do you have a comment or complaint? We want to hear it. Send your letters (typed or neatly handwritten) to HUSTLER Feedback, 8484 Wilshire Boulevard, Suite 900, Beverly Hills, CA 90211. Include a phone number if you want your letter considered for publication.

NAPPY BIRTHDAY

Happy anniversary, HUSTLER, and greetings from a lifelong reader—literally! The magazine and I were born the same month and year: July '74. Not only do I celebrate my 22nd birthday this month, but I also finished college. I feel like I've finally graduated to womanhood, and HUSTLER has been there for me every step of the way. How could I possibly display my gratitude for more than two decades of thought-provoking articles, sidesplitting humor and panty-moistening pictorials?

The answer came to me during a recent visit to my parents' house. While riffling through Dad's secret HUSTLER stash, inspiration hit me like a stiff cock across the face. A big, hard, black cock, to be specific. The stud attached to that dusky, monster hose was named Butch. He and his super-hootered, Caucasian girlfriend, Peaches, frolicked amongst the pages of HUSTLER's 21st Anniversary Issue the year I started drinking legally (Butch & Peaches: An Affair to Remember, July '95). This year I planned to commemorate their taboo tryst by getting shitfaced on my birthday and banging a gangload of people of color. Throughout the orgy, I'd snap Polaroids, then I'd send them to the horny HUSTLER editors as my way of saying "Thanks." Somehow I had to find a group of well-hung African-American men willing to ream out a blond, honkie honey, armed only with my luscious handfuls of mam and thick, round butt.

I didn't have to search for long. As a matter of fact, the first fellow came to me. I was about to fall off my bar stool at Bobo's Cocktails, due to an ancient HUSTLER's particularly hilarious Chester the Molester comic (not to mention five shots of Jaegermeister), when muscular, brown arms wrapped around my midsection.

"Woah, little lady," grinned my wild-eyed savior through a mouthful of 24-karat teeth. "If you're not careful, you'll break that funny bone." I grabbed onto the black Superman's crotch.

"This is the only bone I feel like breaking off a piece of," I cooed, inwardly astonished at the enormity of his blue jeans-encased bulge. Smiling, the kinky-haired gentleman grabbed my tiny hand and led me into the men's room.

I peeled off my damp panties and lifted my leather skirt, displaying the bouncy behind that has earned countless lascivious comments throughout the years. Tonight was no exception, as my newfound friend erupted in a hearty, "Sheee-yit!"

"Keep it quiet, lover," I scolded, sliding two fingers between my soft, slick labia. "We don't want the Bobo's Cocktails management to see what I'm about to do with that beautiful, black tool of yours."

He simply chuckled and whipped out the brown bomber in question. "Baby, I am the management. And now Bobo is gonna put his cock in your tail." With those words, he bent me over the toilet and drove his spike up my ass like the John Henry of sodomy. I screamed in anguished ecstasy.

"For God's sake, stop," I pleaded. I reached for my camera, took a few shots of the sable saber between the white cheeks of my ass and then panted, "Okay, now you can go back to fucking my butt." Bobo did so with relish. He pulled out until my rectum contracted around the tip of his fat cock, then barged back up my shitter with a brutal thrust. Frantically, I tweaked my engorged clit and rode my first wave of climax after only a few pumps of Bobo's long dong.

That's when everything went black. No, I didn't pass out; Bobo's clientele, attracted by the familiar squeals of a cracker cunt getting her first taste of dark meat, filed into the bathroom. After a few hurried introductions, the pack of lust-crazed coloreds stripped down to their socks, and my body was engulfed in a feeding frenzy of tongues and fingers. An impossibly fat prick, which put even Bobo's manhood to shame, wedged up my snatch.

Soon enough, a rail-thin dude jumped up on the toilet and pushed my head into his lap. The penetration tally went up to three when I slurped down his delicious chocolate log. Most of the guys waiting in line took their hands off their puds long enough to slap one another five and raucously imitate the slurping sounds. The laughter was sure to stop when I blew every single boner in sight.

My vision, however, was temporarily impaired by the Polaroid's flash. The boys took turns passing the camera around. One shot zoomed in on the mook underneath me, balls-deep in my swollen, dripping clam; another caught the exact moment when the skinny guy's humjob was interrupted by an overzealous buddy, who crammed his crank into my mouth as well. The double-stuffing provoked such an enthusiastic reaction from the crowd that Bobo pulled his wang out of my asshole and joined his horse-hung customer in poking my sorely stretched punanny.

The sensation of two dicks plowing my vage at the same time was so overwhelming, I actually went numb below the waist. At least that interrupted my steady stream of multiple orgasms, and I could fully focus on my favorite lickish activity: sucking cock. I dragged my teeth up and down the lengths of the member snaking down my gullet. The object of my affection grew dangerously erect, and I just managed to wrap my lips around its ever-expanding girth. Finally, the anorexic-looking homeboy grabbed my head with both hands, and his entire body stiffened. He furiously fucked my face until a load of warm, viscous goo gushed into my mouth.

My honeypot sprang back to life, and I craved something harder. I was rewarded with a searing in the sphincters as yet another brother took his turn anally violating my pale, toned body.

Even as the limp cock retracted from my kisser, another stiff skin-spear was chucked in its place. This time, my cock-sucking concentration was broken by tingling down below. Some generous soul had decided to rekindle the fire in my loins by orally ravaging the fleshy cunt folds. I couldn't see the face of the talented muff-diver, but he shattered every stereotype I'd ever heard about black men and pussy-eating. As the credit to his race stabbed my clit with darting licks, my honeypot sprang back to life, and I craved something harder. I was rewarded with a searing in the sphincters as yet another brother took his turn anally violating my pale, toned body.

Just when the mouth on my snizz had me ready to explode with the evening's umpteenth orgasm, Bobo's booming voice announced, "Last call!" A collective groan escaped the barflies who hadn't taken a crack at my snow-white rump. My mouth and bunghole were unplugged as the crowd formed a circle around my naked form. Noting the increased intensity of meat-beating that ensued, I squeezed my creamy jugs together as an offering to these ebony gods of spillage. The dam finally burst as Bobo unloaded chum right between my boobs and smeared the sticky mess with his black baton until the slop ran down to my pubes. Soon, I was drenched in a white rain, with sperm flying at my chin, neck, nipples, up my nose and occasionally into my eye. I flashed my best sopping smile for the camera and excitedly gathered up the Polaroids.

Seems like a pretty tough act to follow for HUSTLER's 23rd anniversary, doesn't it? Never fear—now that my horizons have been broadened, I've reserved a plane ticket to tackle the biggest guns of all: HUSTLER's editors. See you at the office, boys!

I'm a gaffer for a popular network television show. If people figure out my identity, I'll be fired. But I just can't keep this story to myself any longer. Hopefully, anyone reading HUSTLER's Hot Letters will think it's phony. How could they believe that one of TV's biggest stars is also the world's biggest slut?

At the network, I'm considered an utter peon. The stars and executives treat any employee without his own dressing room like the scum of the earth. One time, a very famous comedian walked off the set of his sitcom, stuck a finger in one nostril of his giant schnozz and blew snot all over my face. When I'm not entertaining murderous fantasies about that mucus-flinging cocksucker, I'm masturbating over the indescribably gorgeous, peroxide-blond pinup queen he's been boffing behind his ugly, fat girlfriend's back. We'll call this nighttime-soap actress Helen, even though that's not her real name. She's got a body that just won't quit: big, round, beautiful eyes and luscious tits to match; a tight little butt, high cheekbones and a mouth that seems to—well, perhaps I shouldn't be overly descriptive. Suffice it to say, Helen is a piece of ass, a fact that was driven home when I walked in on her showering in the tech crew's locker room.

"Oh, my goodness," she said with a phony gasp, her toothy smile visible even through thick clouds of steam. "I thought everyone had left for the wrap party." Helen continued to massage soap on her

"Finally, a man in Hollywood who knows how to get rough," she gushed, grabbing the electric tape. "Go ahead. Bind me up! My hands, my feet.... The kinkier, the better!"

pendulous, glistening breasts.

I made a valiant attempt to speak without drooling and managed: "Your unfunny boyfriend had me disinvited." She threw her head back and laughed.

"Why don't the two of us," she began, pausing to pull down my pants and free my throbbing hard-on, "share a little un-wrap party?" Before I could contemplate the offer, Helen fell to her knees and quaffed my choad. All those years on the casting couch had taught America's Sweetheart a thing or two about sucking on dick. She bobbed her head against my groin with the zeal of a crack whore on the pipe. Thank God I was so stunned by the sight of my penis entering the mouth of a chick from the cover of People, or I would've pissed white within ten seconds. Helen dug her long fingernails into my ass, groaning and snorting between sucks.

Unable to resist the sight of Helen's bare, heaving chest, I uncorked my crank and rubbed it between the two pink-capped majesties. She enthusiastically pressed all her teat meat together and snaked her tongue down to meet my dick's every thrust. A wicked gleam lit up Helen's eyes when I rudely tweaked her nipples between my fingers.

"Finally, a man in Hollywood who knows how to get rough," she gushed, grabbing the electric tape off my utility belt. "Go ahead. Bind me up! My hands, my feet.... The kinkier, the better!" I was more than happy to oblige by slapping adhesive strips over Helen's juicy titties and tightly securing her hands behind her back. When I climbed on top of Helen and sank my prong into her baby-smooth cooze, it felt like entering the gates of heaven. She writhed in a bucking delirium, moaning, "Fill my sweet pussy! Fill it all up!" What a stone-cold freak!

For a better look at Helen's cute rear-end, I rolled her onto her stomach and climbed aboard. She spread her legs wide and accepted my ramrod back into her sugar walls. This was the hottest fuck of my life, and I honestly wasn't sure how many more strokes I could take. I finally gave up on holding back the splooge when her vagina began to contract at an alarming rate, milking my meat with nut-busting muscle control. My grunting became animalistic. Helen wriggled out from underneath me and onto her knees.

"Now stand above me," she demanded, "and spray that load across the most famous face in America!" Helen's not really that big a celebrity, but I wasn't in the mood to argue. I climbed to my feet and jackd off at a fever pitch.

At the moment of testicular truth, who should walk into the locker room but the aforementioned dickwad sitcom star. When he saw his showpiece mistress waiting to accept a blast in the face from my scum gun, he slipped and fell rushing to pull Helen out of the line of fire. Even the sight of his giant beak, blubbery lips and droopy eyes couldn't shut off the flow of jizz rushing out of my spout. As he frantically loosened Helen's hands, spewing obscenities into her delicate ear, I countered by spewing all over his fucking face. I'm no homo, but it had to be the most satisfying pop of my life.

The big shot with the glazed face gave me a nice chunk of change to keep the whole story hush-hush. A lot of my friends said I should quit being a gaffer. What, and give up show business—and tying up Helen each night while she sucks my dick?

Read & Remember "My First HUSTLER"

By Alex Marvel

Restrictive attitudes in the name of so-called morality increasingly take the fun out of fucking.

Through good, old-fashioned homespun knowledge, hearsay, scientific facts and outright lies, this series strives to spread the word that rubbing uglies is a beautiful experience.

*First times stick with us. First kiss, first date, first stink finger. Our first times hearken back to an era rich with the glow of nostalgia and discovery, even if that first time was only last week when we got our first slip of dick up a left-handed brunette's sphincters outdoors under a full moon while her husband and kids were in the house watching Friends on a Sony TV.*

First times become rarer and harder to achieve as we age, and the first times of our past tend to blur. Only the major first times stand out. First handjob from a chick; the first time the cock is sucked; first fuck—all these might be lost to the vagaries of passing memory, but we can always distinctly relive the first time we saw HUSTLER. The virgin HUSTLER experience has changed the direction of more lives than has initial exposure to any other printed matter, except perhaps the Bible. There's always time for the Bible later in life, when we're too old to remember what joy is. Until that dead, far-off day, revel in a selected sampling of HUSTLER readers' first times....

* * *

I came to HUSTLER late in life, 28 years old, recently divorced, drinking heavily, my business going down the toilet. Suicide, I'd decided, was my only option. Thank God I hadn't pawned my .45. I stopped at the Liquor Locker for a quart of gin to steady my shooting nerve and picked up a HUSTLER for company. It had a pink logo and a totally naked, very tanned blonde on the cover, against a background of the ocean (September 1987). The cartoons made me laugh out loud. The last time I'd laughed out loud had been about six months earlier, when I saw my ex-wife's cat get run over. So I had a drink and read the covergirl's (Barbara Dare: Porn's Super-Starlet, September 1987) interview and looked at her pictures. Women had lost their appeal for me after the divorce, but the shots of this covergirl were so hot that I forgot about the gun and jacked off. Then I read the interview some more. After that, I put the gun away and jacked off again. That magazine saved my life.

—Elgin K.

Verbal, Illinois

I found out about HUSTLER the old-fashioned way. My little brother dug up my old man's stash and brought one to me because he couldn't figure out what the magazine was about. All the chicks had their big, hairy pussies showing; so the point seemed obvious to me. I was like 12; my brother was nine. "It's a beaver book, dipshit." We studied that book like a pair of Bible students. There was an interview with the guy who taught Linda Lovelace how to deep-throat (The HUSTLER Interview: Chuck Traynor, January 1975) that gave us very good advice about how to treat women when we got old enough to fuck them. That HUSTLER was a major relief. Up until then, we'd been afraid my brother was growing up gay.

—Patrick J.

Los Angeles, California

The only good thing about the time I spent in prison was my introduction to HUSTLER. I'd been careful all through the 1970s and was a highly regarded bank officer. I got careless and started the '80s as a white-collar felon. In prison, I volunteered to tutor guys who couldn't read. All they wanted to read were law books or HUSTLERs. The first issue I ever saw had a harsh, violent article about cocaine smugglers; a wrenching exposé of America's homeless; pictures of a male having sex with two women, one of whom had a penis (The Cocaine Battleground; Address Nowhere—The Tragedy of Our Homeless Millions; and Fruit of the Gawds, February 1984) and all sorts of sundry outrage. I never willingly taught from another law text for the entire 36 months of my tenure.

—William B. III

Beverly Hills, California

Along with about three million other motherfuckers, I first came to HUSTLER with the Jackie O. issue (The Agony, Ecstasy & Nudity of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, August 1975). Came is the right word. Forget about Jackie with her flat ass and no tits; that HUSTLER was full of raunchy bitches with bubble-gum pussy lips. The magazine gave me something to chew on, and I've been chewing on it ever since.

—Steven K.

Roxbury, Massachusetts

A Catholic-school education is known for its horrors. When I was an eight-year-old second-grade inmate at Our Lady of Perpetual Sorrows Academy, some pervert left a copy of HUSTLER on the school playground, right behind the monkey bars where I habitually spent every recess period watching the little girls twirl and climb. Of course I, out of all my stubby, nun-fearing classmates, was the one to spot the magazine. I was immediately attracted to its cover—it was a shot of a brunet woman, shown from behind. Her body was oiled up and glistening like a turkey just out of the oven. A green bikini bottom was wedged into the crack of her ass (May 1981). I picked it up, knowing I was sinning, and hid the magazine under my coat. The voice of conscience said that if I opened the magazine, I would go to hell. I said, "Okay, then I'm going to hell." I was con-

One day, he invited me over to clean his apartment, and I swept out a HUSTLER from under the bed. It was an eye opener. No wonder that dirty bastard was so good with my pussy.

fused, scared and fascinated by everything I saw in the HUSTLER, especially the photos of a guy screwing a woman painted up to look like a robot (Programmed for Passion, May 1981) and a cartoon that showed a man lying beneath a glass table, looking up and jacking off while a lady squatted on top and pooped. I tried to get my little sister to do that the next time my mother left us alone, but she could only pee. I've spent about $100,000 on therapy since that first copy of HUSTLER, but I blame the nuns more than I blame you guys.

—Patrick McF.
Brooklyn, New York

My first HUSTLER was my last, and I pray that I never see another. I'm a religious man and very involved in antipornography activism. I trace my commitment directly to your magazine; so I hope you're proud of yourselves.

—Charlton P.
Thumpers Ferry, Georgia

In my early teens, me and my two friends used to sneak down into a big storm drain to smoke pot. One day, we found a HUSTLER that someone had tossed in there. The magazine was in perfect shape, except it had been soaked in the rain. The pages were all wrinkled and stuck together. We knew that the magazine was valuable; so we took it to the house of a family that was away on vacation. We strung clothesline across their garage, smoking pot the whole time, then we squatted on the floor with this saturated clump of paper and meticulously separated the pages, which we hung to dry on the clothesline across this garage. The next day, we broke into the garage again and pieced the magazine back together. The centerfold had two girls who looked like twins (Two of a Kind, March 1980). I remember thinking that HUSTLER was worth the effort, and not just because the pot we were smoking was really strong.

—Evan R.
Flintrock, Ohio

I was dating this guy who was a total dick. The only good thing about him was that he fucked like a nasty, filthy, insatiable pig. One day, he invited me over to clean his apartment, and I swept out a HUSTLER along with all the gross shit from under the bed. The other guys I'd been with read Playboy or Penthouse, but never anything like HUSTLER. It was an eye opener. No wonder that dirty bastard was so good with my pussy.

—Stacy Q.
Brisburn, Wisconsin

I got my first HUSTLER by accident. I'd been a High Society man. When I was a kid, this one crack whore in the neighborhood had sold her pussy to High Society to get a rock, and we are very loyal people in our neighborhood. So the foreign fucker at the store got wise and kept the High Society up by him; so I stole a HUSTLER. That book had two fine cunts sucking face and pussy on a purple Ferrari (Kelly and Marina: No Man's Land, October 1990). Deeper in, you got Barbara Dare, porn's finest slut, humping some long-haired, white boy's dick (Barbara Dare in Serpent Kiss, October 1990). And for homeboys who read, it had a story about spanking bitches until they beg for dick (Slap Happy: Spanking Builds Better Boners). We chased that crack-huffing, High Society whore off the block, and HUSTLER has ruled ever since.

—Vincent DeG.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

My first HUSTLER was stuffed under the socks of my grandson's underwear drawer. I couldn't believe what I was seeing. I'd forgotten all about pussy, but I don't forget to check the kid's underwear drawer every month.

—James F.
Stoners Inlet, Washington

We don't see much HUSTLER in the part of Texas where I hail from; in my case, I didn't see any HUSTLER while I was growing up. Then I joined the Marines, and they brought me out to California, and I saw HUSTLER. It was during week six. I was so beat, I could hardly find the strength to take a good shit. This magazine had two giant tits on the cover, with their nipples covered by red suspenders (January 1986). The Beaver Hunt got me. That night, I was every inch as tired as I had been for six weeks, but I suddenly had extra energy to beat my missile before going to sleep. That's when I knew I'd make it through basic training and become a real Marine. The Corps and I parted company about five years back (amicably), but I still keep HUSTLER in my footlocker wherever I go.

—Branson W.
Coral Gables, Florida

I've always been ruled by my nose. What I smell means as much to me as what I see; so you know where I was headed in the summer of 1977. Headlong and beak first to HUSTLER and its First Time Ever Scratch 'N' Sniff Centerfold (August 1977). The aroma of the centerfold's patch itself was a little disappointing—slightly too flowery and fruity for my palate; I prefer a tangy, tart redolence, but to each his own. I came to sniff and stayed to look and read. The sights of HUSTLER have come to have a power over me that had previously been wielded only by aromas. I'm a subscriber, and I can practically smell the pink of HUSTLER right through its plain-brown wrapper.

Adventurous Erica wants to go one step beyond Max's waterbed.

"It's not enough," she whines. "I want to be pounded by waves. Fuck me in the middle of the ocean!"

Max will do just about anything for Erica, except drown. He checks the weather before launching their raft, then sets up a rhythmic pounding of his own.

How long before she notices that the tide has gone out?

In 1974, Publisher Larry Flynt made a pledge to bring readers the finest in outrageous humor, thought-provoking articles and mouthwatering pussy. HUSTLER has fulfilled that promise for 22 long, hard years. Now, America's Magazine casts a curious eye (not to mention a pink one and a brown one) toward the future. Twenty-two years from today, will HUSTLER still get a rise out of man, woman and android? Stare into our crystal balls for a special peek at...

HUSTLER in the FUTURE

By the time the 21st century rolls around, self-righteous, censorious scumbags such as Bob Dole, William Bennett and Newt Gingrich may have already died violent, agonizing deaths. Newfound freedom at the newsstand could result in wide-open possibilities for HUSTLER covers. The July 2018 cover shot will also adorn the latest digital audiotape by a lame bunch of retro-rockers who imitate the music of their boogie-woogie forefathers, the Black Crowes.

ASSHOLE OF THE FUTURE

President Simpson

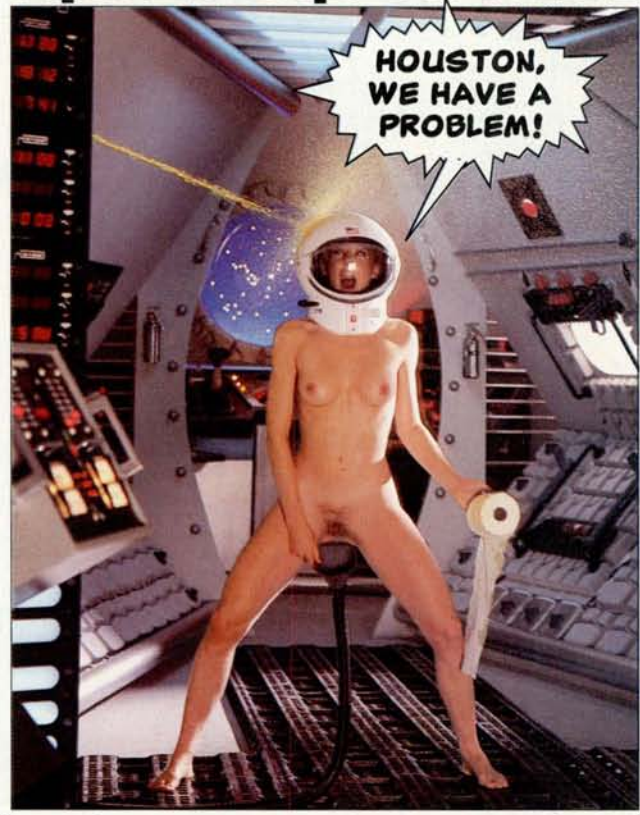

The fact that O. J. Simpson has lost seven First Ladies to "accidental death" during the first year and a half of his Presidency does not make him a fart-flinging fudge tunnel. No, the Juice was not inaugurated into official sphincter status until June 21, 2018, when the pooperesque ex-jock and his crotch-sniffing Vice President, Snoop Doggy Dogg, walked into a McDonald's restaurant in Washington, D.C. Both executive enema bags toted automatic rifles, which proceeded to go off and kill 47 Big Mac munchers "by mistake." Worst of all, colon-clone O. J. didn't even pay for his Happy Meal, because he "didn't like the toy." What an Asshole.

Twenty-two more years of Asshole pollution will probably finish off the ozone layer once and for all.

Apollo Squirt-Teen

Bits & Pieces models will be far less humiliated in state-of-the-art protective gear, as proven by this sloppy send-up of a film considered classic in 2018.

Erotic entertainment

The Computer-Repair Cyborg and the Housewife

FULLY ERECT. Directed by C. D. Rom; starring Juana Data, ROJO-2000, Cynthia Cybersexxx, Teri Hacker, Melissa Modem, T. T. Beta, E-Male and Nina Hartley. Videochip: Microsmut Pictures.

The bad news is, the cost-efficient cretins at Microsmut attached Ron Jeremy's penis (and a few other, less vital organs, such as his brain) to a porn-droid's mainframe. This means the Hedgehog will probably live forever. The good news is that they forgot to give the ROJO-2000 a voice chip. The Computer-Repair Cyborg and the Housewife, ROJO's film debut, is two solid hours of hard-drive boinking, guaranteed to spin a spermy web site in the user's underwear. Juana Data takes T. T.'s megabeta up the butt while E-Male wires her sizzling snizz. Teri Hacker sports labial vibro-implants so electrifying, she nearly short-circuits ROJO, who blows a gasket all over her kewpie-pie puss. Nina Hartley takes her teeth out, drools and nods off. Call the Computer-Repair Cyborg for a quick fucking fix.

—Goy Hammerstein

COMPUTER-REPAIR CYBORG: ROJO jacks into Hacker.

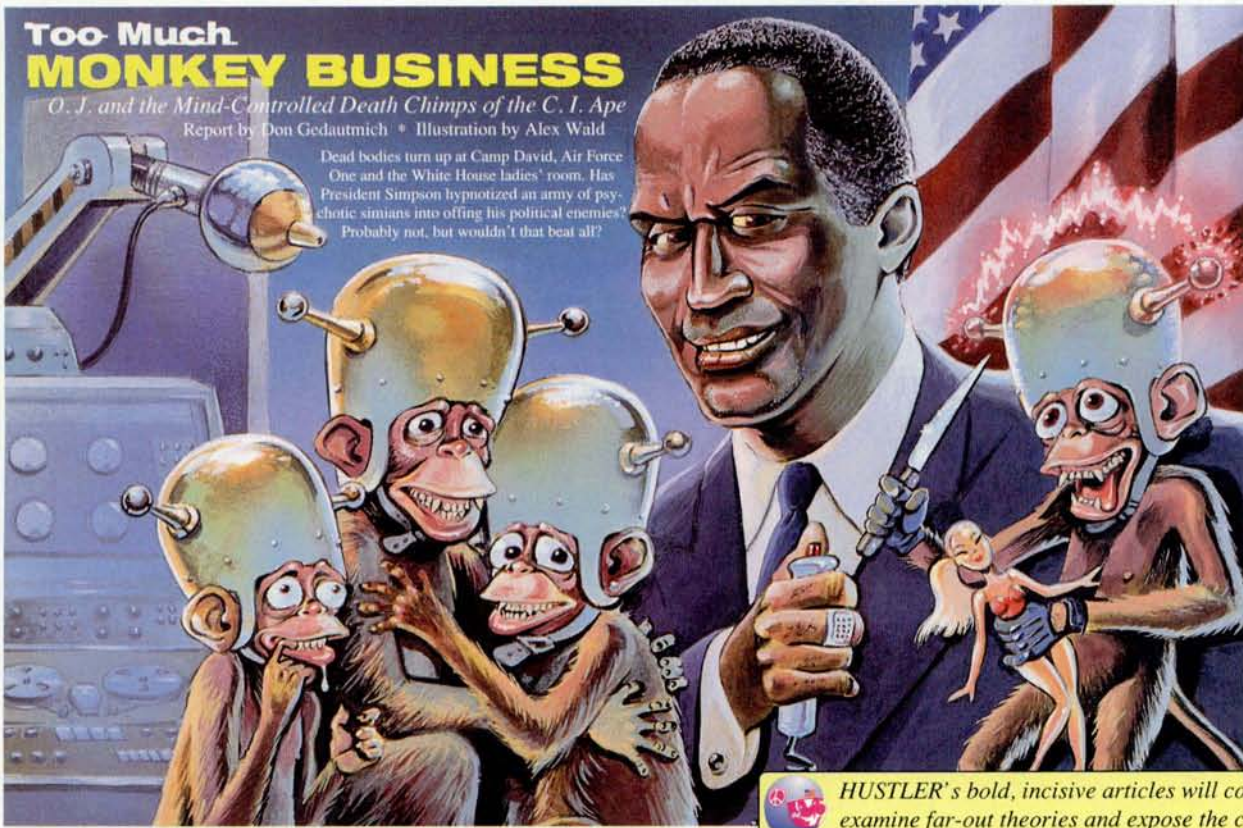

Machines may replace human beings, but nothing can replace Erotic Entertainment as the definitive critical voice of on-screen sex.

Too Much MONKEY BUSINESS

O. J. and the Mind-Controlled Death Chimps of the C. I. Ape
Report by Don Gedautmich • Illustration by Alex Wald

Dead bodies turn up at Camp David, Air Force One and the White House ladies' room. Has President Simpson hypnotized an army of psychotic simians into offing his political enemies? Probably not, but wouldn't that beat all?

HUSTLER's bold, incisive articles will continue to examine far-out theories and expose the cold, hard truth.

In space, no one can hear you cream: A stellar beauty with a heavenly body gets all choked up over the shape of her oxygen tank's mouthpiece in the July 2018 centerfold.

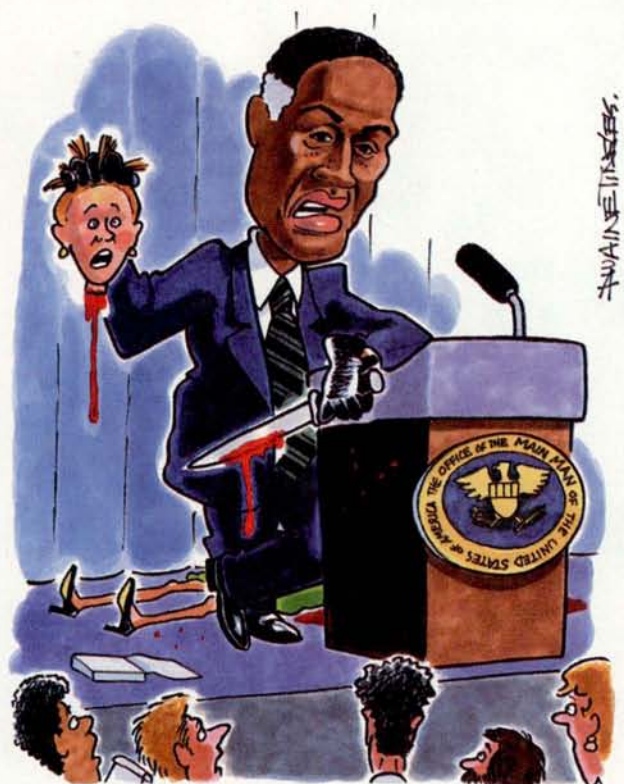

Exploring the outer limits of sexuality, HUSTLER ventures beyond photo-sets of interracial lovemaking, into the realm of the interplanetary.

Plug into the August 2018 issue of HUSTLER for more thrills, chills and spills than you can shake your disc at. Travel the Masturbation Highway to Hollywood, where Grandma Annabel Chong plans to top the world gang-bang record with 500 guys at her nursing home. Fire your photons to celebrate a report from the set of The People vs. Larry Flynt Part XII: Falwell Strikes Back. Take a byte out of August's HUSTLER.

In other words, the future holds sex, laughs and hard-hitting truth—HUSTLER's business as usual. Stick around; there's plenty more to come!

PRO BOXING'S BROTHERS GRIM

QUARRY FAMILY VALUES

DYNASTY PROFILED BY ROBERT MLADINICH

ILLUSTRATION BY CHUCK ROBLIN

The hard-driving sons of a hard-luck man, Jerry and Mike Quarry once brawled their way to the brink of boxing glory. Today, the brothers who never backed down find themselves trapped in a cautionary fable of forgetting.

Quarry

"He made me strip naked in front of the family. He pinned the diaper on me and made me suck the bottle. I had to say, 'I'm not a Quarry; I'm a quitter,' over and over. That incident ruined me."

Jack Quarry was a drifter. At age 14, he left the plains of Oklahoma and traveled the American West, riding the rails, sleeping in labor camps and relying on his fists more than his wits. He was a rough, crude man whose sole passion was fighting, be it in bars, railway yards, railroad cars or makeshift arenas set up at work sites. His meaty fingers were amateurishly tattooed with the words HARD LUCK, a metaphor for his life and the legacy he left his children.

Jack and his wife, Arwanda, had four boys and four girls. James was the oldest. As the family grew, they moved regularly throughout California, always looking for work and a better life.

"It seems like we were always living at the end of a cotton patch with signs that said OKIES AND DOGS KEEP OFF THE GRASS," Jack recalls. "We were so poor, all we knew was dirt floors and throwing crap into the street. And people never let us forget that."

* * *

James Quarry and his younger brother Jerry started boxing as soon as they could walk and say they have no childhood memories other than boxing. "Dad would brag to all his friends in the bars that his sons would be world champions someday," James says. "We would fight in the bars or in a back room or a backyard. We would mostly fight each other because there were no other kids to fight. We didn't like it, but we wouldn't have dared say no. We realize now he was just living his life through us. We were going to make up for his failures."

One day, James was playing in a softball game with a group of new friends. An argument arose, and James walked away from a fight. At seven years old, he was used to fighting regularly, and although he despised it, he was pretty good. When Jack got word that James had backed down, he cursed and berated him, calling him a sissy and a coward. "You're not a Quarry," he screamed at his young son. "You're a quitter."

"He made me strip naked in front of the whole family," James remembers unflinchingly. "He made me get my sister's bottle and one of her diapers. He pinned the diaper on me and made me suck the bottle. I had to say, 'I'm not a Quarry; I'm a quitter,' over and over. That incident ruined me as a fighter and a person. My whole childhood was filled with dread and fear and self-doubt. But for Jerry, it had the opposite effect. Jerry watched the whole thing and looked very scared. After it was over, he walked up to me, dead serious, almost like an adult, and said, 'That will never happen to me.' Remember, he was only six years old.

That was the major difference between Jerry and me. He could take it. I couldn't."

James is 50 now and a bank officer in Palm Springs, California. He lives in nearby Hemet. Jerry lives with him because, at 49, he cannot care for himself. Jerry Quarry, the most popular heavyweight boxer in history to never win a championship, suffers from pugilistica dementia, a syndrome similar to Alzheimer's. The frontal lobe of his brain is a mass of scar tissue, the wreckage left by the thousands of punches he seemed to welcome in an illustrious career. Before retiring with a record of 55-8-4, Jerry tangled with such legendary champions as Muhammad Ali, Joe Frazier and Floyd Patterson.

While Jerry can remember scattered details from his past, he has acute short-term memory loss, difficulty with his equilibrium, problems with depth perception and slurred, slowed speech. He can't drive, can't work and can't live alone. His condition makes it impossible even to seek comfort in his glorious past because the memories are as slurred and blurred as his speech.

While close to 60% of professional boxers eventually suffer from some form of the malady, few suffer as badly as Quarry. To make matters worse, his brother Mike, now 44, who challenged for the light-heavyweight title, has a similar condition, though not as severe. Unlike Jerry, Mike realizes he has a problem and has gone to great lengths to slow the ominous progression of the disease. For many years, Jerry refused to believe anything was wrong. Now he is incapable of comprehending the gravity of his situation when it is explained to him.

Mike works part-time as a landscaper at the church where he worships, in La Mirada, California. Thirteen years after retiring with a 69-13-6 (17 KOs) record, his once handsome, boyish face is adorned with hooded eyelids, a battered nose, dim blue eyes and slabs of scar tissue that resemble burn marks. Thoughtful and engaging, Mike is eager to talk about his past and make some belated sense of it.

"I was always Jerry's younger brother," he explains. "It was like that since we were children, in the ring and out. When we were teenagers, he had so many girlfriends. And I was the tagalong. Jerry would always have them kiss me to make me feel good. When we were boxing, I got so many breaks because of him. I really owe him a lot. Today I just wish I could help him, but he resists. It seems like our life was lived forward and learned backward."

* * *

Jack Quarry admits that the only lessons he ever taught his boys were about

"You must never play with your private parts, Timmy. That's my job."

Jerry showed tremendous gallantry while taking an awful beating. He built his reputation on his ability to withstand merciless punishment. He could beat everybody but the best, but the best beat him badly.

boxing because that is all he knew. "I never rode a bicycle or threw a football or baseball in my life," he says. "I never roller-skated or did any kid things. I was always the stranger in town, and my family never stayed in a town more than a few weeks. My brother was seven years older than me and an amateur boxer. I used to take the gloves to a park wherever we were and let some older kid give me a beating just to get some attention. It made me feel like one of the guys."

Now 74 years old and living in Virginia, Jack sees his sons as victims of a grinding poverty. "I admit I was rough on the boys, but I never expected them to be professional boxers," he says. "I always worked two jobs, 17 hours a day, and my wife couldn't control all these kids. We brought them to the gym to get them out of her hair. Jerry loved boxing from day one and was so competitive, I couldn't keep him out of the gym. I banned Mike from going to the gym because he wasn't so talented, and I thought he'd get hurt. And James never wanted to be a fighter, but just followed Jerry around, even though he was older."

In 1965, Jerry won the coveted National Golden Gloves heavyweight title in Kansas City by scoring five straight knockouts. At 6-0, 180 pounds, he pulverized much larger opponents in brutish fashion. He turned pro in May of that year with great fanfare, although Jack was wary.

"Jerry wanted me to train and manage him," he says. "I told him that father-son relationships didn't always work. I said the most I could do is take half; so we could create a system of scales and balances. When Jerry looked so good in Kansas City, we decided to turn pro. Johnny Flores would be the front man because he had such a good reputation in Los Angeles."

Jack concedes that he and Flores knew nothing about managing a hot prospect: Jerry "pulled our chestnuts out of the fire many times. We would put him in over his head, but Jerry would find a way to beat them."

In less than two years, Quarry was 20-1-3. His only loss was to the far more experienced veteran Eddie Machen. By 1967, his popularity was at its zenith: Jerry was a great white hope given a legitimate chance to win the world title.

He beat and drew with Floyd Patterson that year and had the ex-champ on the deck in both fights. In 1968, Ali was stripped of his title for refusing induction into the armed services. A tournament was held to determine his successor, and Quarry participated based on his victory over Patterson. He beat Thad Spencer before being matched with Jimmy Ellis for a version of the title. Quarry lost a decision and was unfairly portrayed as a malingerer and tabbed with a "white hype" label by a cynical press.

Stiff and tentative throughout the bout, Jerry's trademark left hooks were nonexistent. He complained to both his father and Flores for weeks about intense back pain, but was not allowed to see a doctor.

"My father and Johnny shot him up with cortisone so they wouldn't miss out on the $125,000 purse," says James bitterly. "That Okie and that Mexican never saw so much money in their lives."

Jack remembers that Jerry's back was hurting him, but denies any wrongdoing. "Jerry never said he didn't want to go through with the fight. Anyway, it wouldn't have done any good for me to say anything. You couldn't tell Jerry Quarry he couldn't do anything. He would climb in the ring with crutches if he had to. He was that competitive."

Mike says that in an earlier fight with Tony Alongi, Jerry was allowed to fight with a severely twisted ankle. "It required medical care," he says. "My father took him to a voodoo doctor instead. Then he wrapped the ankle in a football cast, using yards and yards of gauze. They bought larger shoes and put him in the fight."

Jerry wound up getting a draw.

"I was aware of the ankle," says Jack. "I was trying to cancel the fight. Nobody listened to me. The ankle was painful, but not sprained or broken. It was just bruised and swollen. I told him not to go through with the fight. We had a beef about it, but Jerry insisted on fighting."

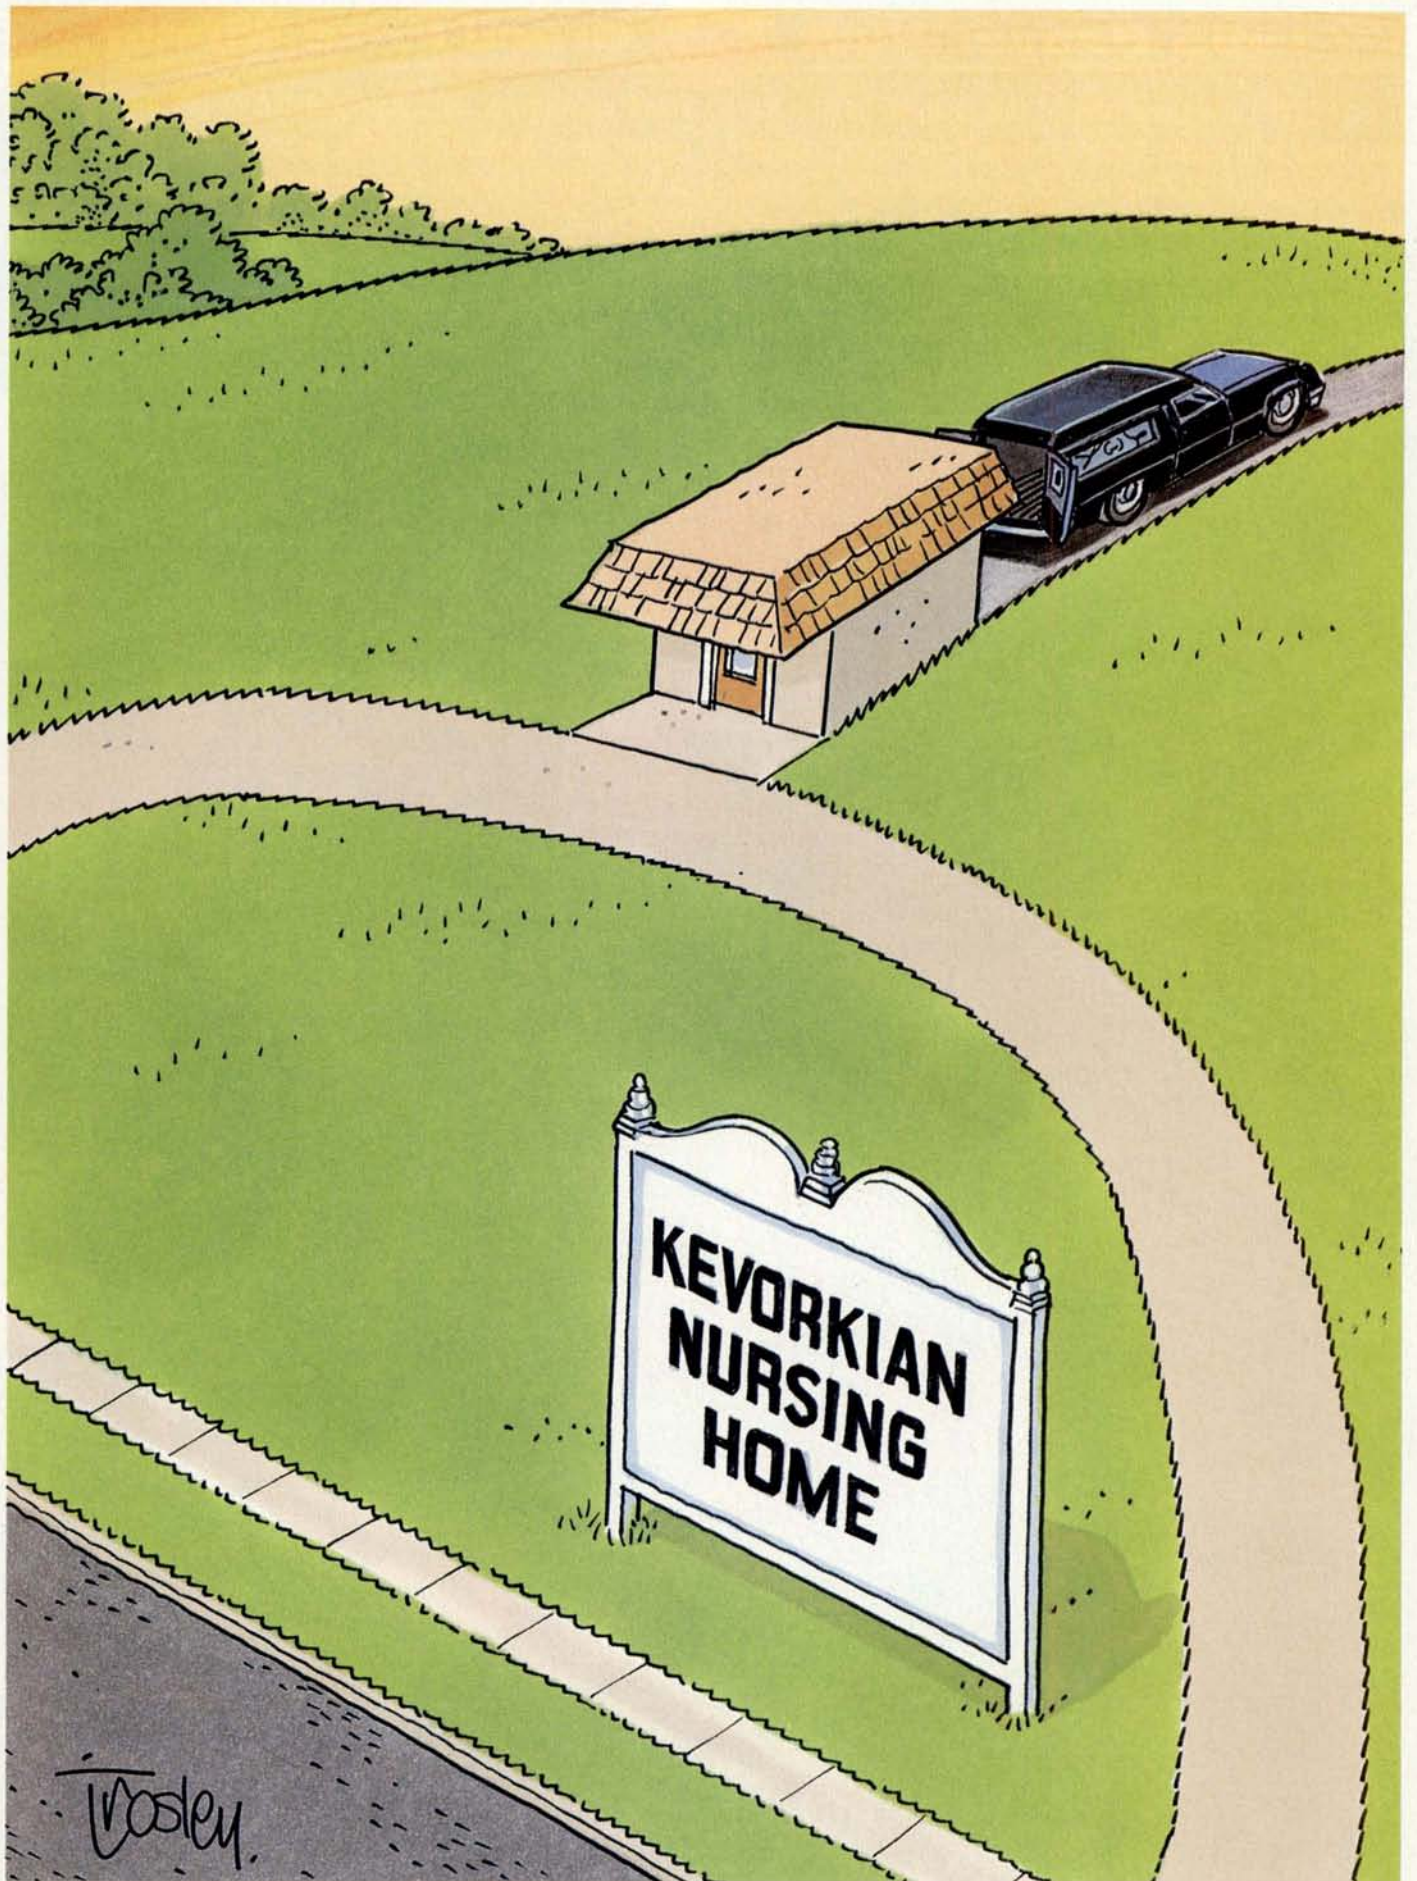

Seven months after losing to Ellis, Jerry embarked on a national tour, winning four fights. After beating Buster Mathis in New York in 1969, he was given a good chance of upsetting partial champion Joe Frazier. Jerry was stopped in seven rounds, but showed tremendous gallantry while taking an awful beating. Whereas the storied rivalry between Ali and Frazier showcased the monumental talents of both fighters, Jerry Quarry built his reputation alone—mostly on his ability to withstand merciless punishment. He could beat everybody but the best, but the best beat him badly.

"Jerry was a great fighter," James says. "That has never been in dispute. He had the talent to become champion and stay champion a long time. But our manhood was always measured by how tough we were, not how talented we were or how much we learned in school. The only

Grand Prize Winner

It ain't Lady Luck alone who hit this jackpot: Dealt a hand that held a luscious kisser, two soft, perfectly rounded breasts and a crackling pair of gorgeous gams, 25-year-old Pamela wisely raised the stakes with her best cards showing. HUSTLER readers knew this muff was no bluff and handed her 5,000 bucks and the glowing title, 1995 Beaver Hunt Grand Prize Winner.

A flight attendant from Pompano Beach, Florida, Pamela anted up with her scintillating debut in the August 1994 Beaver Hunt: A white-knuckled public clamored for her to sweeten the honey pot. Pamela answered the call as Grand Prize Finalist #3, wetting her lips as she uncovered her ace in the hole (Pamela: Three Piece, October '95).

HUSTLER has one word of advice for Pamela, a sports fanatic who loves boxing and football: If you must take your winnings to the gaming tables, lay them all on pink.

thing that mattered was our toughness."

In October 1970, Quarry was chosen as Ali's first opponent upon his return from exile. Prior to the fight, Jerry says Ali came to his dressing room and railed, "I'm gonna kick your white ass. I'm the baddest nigger there is." Jerry was stopped in the third round. His following only grew, however, when the gutty fighter refused to quit despite being bathed in his own blood.

* * *

Mike was 36-0 when he challenged Hall of Fame light-heavyweight champion Bob Foster in 1972. Although not a big puncher, Mike was a busy fighter, extremely confident and capable of looking good against limited opposition. Against Foster he looked good for three rounds, before being brutally dispatched to the canvas where he lay motionless for several minutes.

Says Foster, "That was the only time I was concerned I might have killed somebody. I hit him with a left hook, and his eyes weren't moving. Then they moved into his head. I only saw whites. I said, 'He's dead.' My manager said, 'Business is business.' Mike was such a nice kid. Cocky, but nice. I told him before the fight he should have waited for me to retire before fighting for the title."

While Jerry had several retirements and comebacks, Mike fought continuously until 1982. Although his skills were rapidly eroding and easily exploited by young comers, he was making a meager living off his name. He believes a 1978 fight in San Diego led to his present condition.

"That was the first time I ever got knocked out and didn't remember anything for three days," Mike says without a trace of bitterness. "[The other fighter] was built like a brick outhouse and outweighed me by ten pounds. I was supposed to fight somebody else, but he didn't show. It was a setup. I wasn't ready for him. At the end of the first round, I said I would get it together. In the second round, he knocked me down twice. After that fight, I think my problems started."

His purse was $800.

* * *

There was a time when the Quarry brothers were celebrated media darlings. Jerry and Mike were clean-cut, all-American boys whose rise out of poverty made their father proud. They did several national endorsements, including a popular beer commercial. Jerry even had a short-lived career as a boxing commentator at CBS. Mike hoped to follow him there. Jerry had invested his $2 million in career earnings well, owning an office building in Inglewood, an apartment building in Orange County and a condominium in Hawaii. It looked like this boxing story might have a happy ending. True to form, it didn't.

Both brothers lived as hard as they fought, and Jerry and Mike soon shared debilitating cocaine and alcohol addictions. The job offers, personal assets and savings accounts dried up. Jerry attempted public-relations gigs, celebrity autograph signings, even selling mobile homes. All failed.

In 1983, he had a brief comeback and won a few fights, although it had been determined that he had incurred significant brain damage when a national sports magazine ran tests on him and several other boxing notables early in the year. California still licensed him to fight, and late that year, Jerry fought a very ordinary opponent, James Williams, in Bakersfield. Managing to get a draw along with 63 stitches in the face, Jerry was a parody of his former self.

Mike was living in New Jersey, and his cocaine habit was out of control. "I was rebelling and pushing myself to a point of no return," he says. "The drugs owned me and battled my competitive spirit. I already had enough dead brain cells; now I was killing more." Eventually, Mike got sober. In 1983, he met his future wife in Manhattan.

* * *

Mike has been involved in mental rehabilitation for several years, in a program he found through the unemployment office. "I needed help with my short-term memory," he says. "My thoughts didn't synchronize well. Nothing would go together. My wife and I had one car. I would drive her to church, forget where I took her and try to pick her up at the Anaheim Hilton."

He started taking classes two times a week. "They would flash numbers on a board, and seconds later I would have to remember the numbers," he explains. "In the beginning, my reading was at the seventh-to-eighth-grade level. It has gotten better since taking the classes, but I'm still no rocket scientist." Mike has urged his older brother to attend classes with him, but Jerry refuses.

Resistant to any help, Jerry lives a solitary existence. Ineligible for disability insurance, with no pension, no savings and no health-care benefits, he survives on $614 a month from Social Security. He awakens each morning and goes for a long walk, keeping him near his peak weight of 210 pounds. He wiles away the days watching game shows, having lunch, then watching more television. After dinner,

Fresh-faced Marla aims to please. "I want everything to be perfect—but I'm so nervous. I've never done anything like this before."

Glowing with a sparkle-eyed innocence, Marla seems unaware of her many charms. She flashes a shy smile as she bares her honey-toned curves, a fleshy roundness gracing her supple frame. With gentle encouragement, Marla slowly glides her hand down her stomach and tickles a soft, furrowed flap.

HUSTLER HUMOR

A woman walked into a bar and ordered a pitcher of draft beer and a six-pack of Bud to go. She drank the pitcher, stumbled out into the parking lot and got jumped by a stranger who brutally raped her. When it was over, she dragged herself home and drank the six-pack of Bud.

The next night, the same woman walked into the same bar and ordered a pitcher of draft beer and a six-pack of Bud to go. She drank the pitcher, stumbled out into the parking lot and got jumped by the same man who brutally raped her again. When it was over, she dragged herself home and drank the six-pack of Bud.

The next night, the woman again walked into the bar and ordered a pitcher of beer. This time, she asked the bartender for a six-pack of Coors to go.

"Don't you normally order a six-pack of Bud?" the bartender queried.

"I'm not drinking Bud no more," the woman replied. "It makes my cunt hurt."

Question: How does an Italian girl shave her armpits?

Answer: She uses two razors and several sticks of dynamite to blast out the stumps.

A sociology student named Mary went to a hobo camp to conduct a survey for her college term paper.

"Isn't it uncomfortable not having a permanent place to live?" Mary asked the assembled hobos.

"A little," replied the leader of the hobos, "but we don't have to worry about rent, water or electric bills."

"What about food?" Mary asked.

"We live off the bounty of the land."

"What about sex?"

"That depends," the leader of the hobos replied.

"On what?" Mary asked.

"It depends on how often we get a college student dumb enough to come into our camp alone."

High atop the half-finished skyscraper, a Polack and a Mexican from the welding crew opened their lunch boxes at the same time.

"Damn," the Polack cursed. "Another fucking kielbasa sandwich! Every day it's the same thing. If I have to eat one more kielbasa sandwich, I'll kill myself!"

"Damn," the Mexican cursed, looking into his lunch box. "Another burrito! If I have to eat one more burrito, I'll kill myself!"

The next day, they opened their lunch boxes. The Polack found a kielbasa sandwich inside his lunch box and leapt off the building. The Mexican got another burrito, and he jumped off too.

Later, at their funerals, the two men's wives comforted each other in their misery.

"If only I had known my José didn't like burritos," the Mexican's wife cried. "I would have fixed him something else."

"I don't know what I could have done," the Polack's wife sobbed. "Stanley always packed his own lunches."

The HUSTLER Dictionary defines an infectious grin as: the smile on a slut with cold sores.

One hot day when the priest was out of town, two nuns decided to surprise him by scrubbing the church. The two sisters became so hot, they decided to take off their habits and work completely in the buff. Not long after, there was a knock at the door. "Who is it?" the naked nuns asked nervously.

"It's the blind man," a man's voice replied.

"We may as well just let him in," the more practical-minded of the two sisters decided.

They opened the door, and an old man walked in carrying a long, narrow box. He turned to the two naked nuns and smiled. "For nuns, you've got nice tits."

Before the mortified nuns could answer, he tossed the box down and asked, "Where does the priest want me to hang these blinds?"

Question: How can you tell if a street hooker is level-headed?

Answer: She has cum dribbling out from both sides of her mouth.

Porn Does Big Business at the CES

REPORT BY MACK ASSARIAN

ILLUSTRATION BY DANNY HELLMAN

The 1996 Consumer Electronics Show brings together the most bizarre of bedfellows, mating corporate behemoths Sony and IBM with the disreputable divas of XXX entertainment. Prepare to be seduced as HUSTLER bears witness to the intercourse of industries on the Las Vegas strip.

CES Of the thousands of actresses who spread their legs, suck cock and take load after load of sperm on their faces for the viewing pleasure of millions around the world, several hundred are on hand at the Sahara.

On the first weekend in January, more than 80,000 souls descend on Las Vegas, Nevada, to participate in the 1996 Consumer Electronics Show (CES). Their numbers are felt in long lines at taxi stands across the city. Arrivals at the airport wait up to 45 minutes simply to catch a cab into town.

"I always like it when the CES comes into town," explains Buster, an ex-Marine with 14 years experience as a Vegas hack. "Last night, I had a well-dressed couple get in. They tell me to drive around, no place in particular. I look up in the mirror, and the lady's head is gone. She's down on the seat giving the gentleman a blowjob. I'd say the folks who come in for the CES are a happier bunch than most conventioners." Later that night, a group of CES attendees doing a late-night film shoot in their hotel room hired Buster to buy some supplies. "They gave me $200 and sent me to a drugstore to buy rubbers, K-Y Jelly, mineral oil and enema bags."

While the CES officially welcomes the porn industry, the sponsors are careful to segregate the smut peddlers from such respected electronics manufacturers as Sony, IBM and Compaq, which show off their new products in the sprawling Las Vegas Convention Center. The porn contingent—mostly adult-video production companies, but also a sprinkling of fuck-doll manufacturers, whip-and-chain sellers and other purveyors of kinky novelties—is housed a ten-minute taxi ride away at the Sahara Hotel Convention Center.

Despite its banishment, the porn crowd is far from lonely. A steady flow of buses and taxis from the main convention center arrives outside the doors of the Sahara and drops off thousands of curiosity seekers. Nearly all of them are men. On their suit jackets they bear the emblems of the well-known corporations they represent; on their faces they bear the wobbly grins and nervous, darting eyes of grown men about to do something naughty. They have come to see the bad girls of porn on display in full, living flesh.

Sasha, a 21-year-old platinum blonde in a latex dress the color of mercury, inscribes photographs for a group of attorneys from Pittsburgh.

Several feet away, two snickering schmoes, emboldened by distance, turn to Sasha and hoot, "How many dicks have you sucked today, slut?" When Sasha makes eye contact, they zoom off, giggling mischievously.

"I feel like I'm in a freak show," Sasha grouches in Russian-tinged English.

"All day I sit here, smiling, signing the pictures, posing for their cameras. But some of these guys are not very nice; they look down on me."

Until she was 14, Sasha lived in a Ukrainian village called Chernovtzy—literally, "black sheep." When she immigrated to America with her parents, she was a virgin. That changed with the arrival of a UPS man delivering packages from the old country.

"I was lucky to lose my virginity to the UPS man," Sasha explains. "He was an Italian with a huge cock. He gave me head for over an hour and made me come over and over before he even dropped his pants. That first time was so good, it was like, now the beast is out."

"My father used to beat the shit out of me all the time; so I moved out when I was 15. I got a fake ID and took a job nude-dancing at a club in New York."

Asked what her family thinks of her chosen profession, Sasha answers without missing a beat: "If I was a serial killer, my parents would forgive me. But working in entertainment—this branch of the entertainment business, no way. They would disown me if they knew."

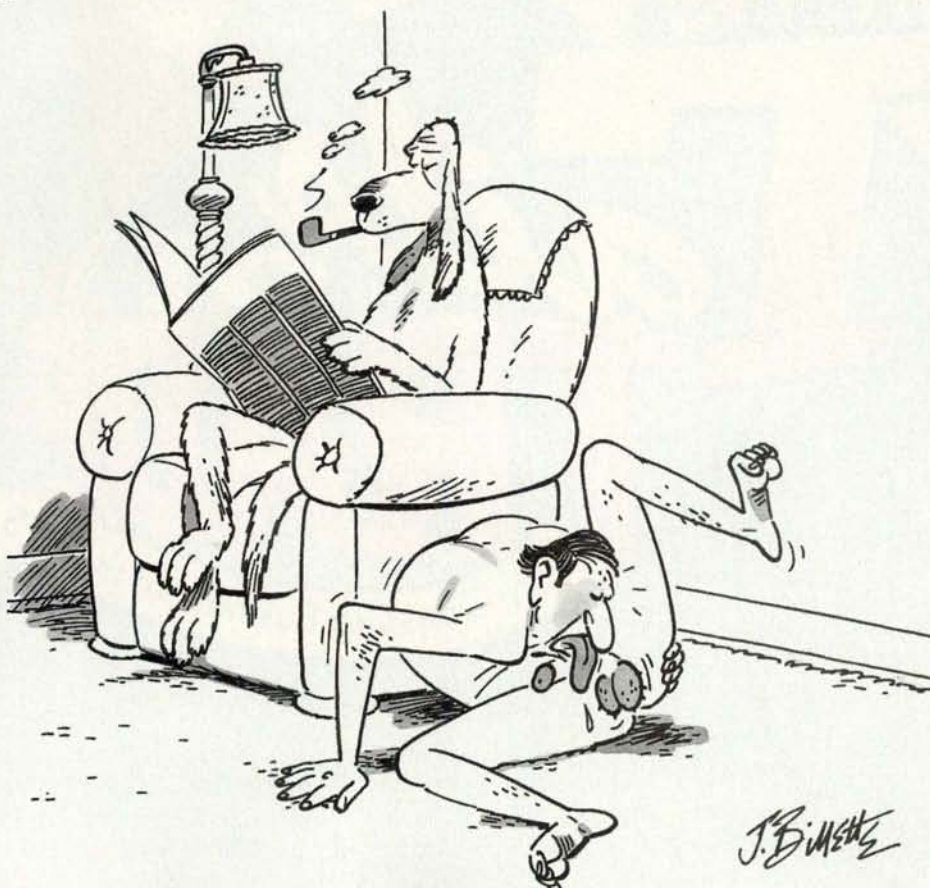

Of the thousands of actresses who spread their legs, suck cock and take load after load of sperm on their faces for the viewing pleasure of millions around the world, several hundred are on hand at the Sahara.

These women come to the CES in the employ of the adult-video manufacturers who pay them $500 a day to stand outside their booths and attract customers with their smiles. Most of them would be wearing nothing but smiles were it not for the public-decency laws that Vegas cops strictly enforce.

Undaunted, the skin stars demonstrate a flair for indecency that skirts the limits of both law and taste. Butt cheeks boom, naked to the crack in thong bikini bottoms; nipples peek over the tops of bustiers; shaved clams creep visibly beneath the skirts of their panty-less owners. One woman shows off her exceptionally fat, pierced nipples by pulling them through the holes in her mesh shirt and clipping them with silver rings. Several slatterns dispense with such subtlety and just yank up their tops and wag their naked titties at the crowds as often as the hotel security guards turn their backs.

The crowd of spectators, packed elbow-to-elbow at all times, gives the vast convention hall the intimacy of a New York City subway station at rush hour. Cheers,

THE FIRE INSIDE DANA

A woman is lying on her side on a large, light-colored rock. She is wearing a leopard-print bikini. To her right, a waterfall cascades down a rocky ledge, creating a bright, orange-gold spray of water. The background is a dark, textured rock face.

"I'M FROM CLEVELAND," ALLOWS DANA, A B-MOVIE STARLET. "BUT I'D ALWAYS DREAMED ABOUT HOLLYWOOD. I WAS GONNA BE THE NEXT MERYL STREEP! MY FRIENDS LAUGHED AT ME: 'WHO ARE YOU KIDDING, DANA-YOURE JUST A SLUTTY MALL RAT WITH FAST-FOOD HAIR.' THE WORST WAS, I STARTED TO BELIEVE THEM.

"MY FIRST AUDITION CHANGED THAT. AFTER I GOT UP OFF HIS COUCH AND GOT DRESSED, THE CASTING DIRECTOR SAID I HAD REAL TALENT! HE SAID MY PLUCK AND WILLINGNESS TO DO THE DIRTY WORK EARNED ME THE PART-AND MY SWOLLEN, BEGGING-TO-BE-SUCKED NIPPLES HELPED TOO. I PLAY THE FIREKEEPER, WHO GETS RAVAGED BY A ROVING PACK OF NEANDERTHALS DESPERATE FOR HER MYSTICAL HEAT SOURCE."

"NOT FOR THAT BAND OF CAVEMEN. I GAVE THEM INSPIRATION TO BURN."

whistles and catcalls erupt continually. Heat from the crowd's collective heavy breathing overwhelms the Sahara's air-conditioning, and temperatures soar.

The myriad, mookish porn fans who arrive at the Sahara crowd around the booths of their favorite porn stars, lining up to receive signed photographs. Many walk away not just with pictures and loving inscriptions, but also lipstick smears across their faces and necks.

A lucky few enjoy a more vigorous interaction. Shouting "I love America! God bless America!" one happy sex tourist is pushed to his knees by two statuesque blondes in matching red, white and blue bikinis. To the cheers of the mook's pals, one of the girls pulls the front panel of her bikini bottom aside and mashes his face into her shaved crotch mound. Meanwhile, the other kneels behind his back and rests her casaba-size jugs on his shoulders while his buddies, laughing and poking each other in the ribs, snap pictures and wonder aloud what the folks will say back home.

A tall, junkie-thin blonde with an eerie grin thrills the crowd by squirting jets of butter-yellow milk from her sagging, lactating left breast. "I like to quench people's thirst," she remarks, leering as she tucks away the spouting nipple.

"Look at that," smirks a fat man in golf pants to his similarly attired buddy. "Look at the perverts."

His friend breathes rapturously. "Yeah, perverts." A giant chick wobbles past on high heels, somewhat knock-kneed from the weight of her massive, silicone udders.

The porn chicks at the CES come from a variety of backgrounds. Nikki Sinn, lauded in the industry for her blistering screen performances, hails from a circus family and grew up on the road with the Ringling Bros. Christi Lake, a newcomer who schmoozes and networks the CES crowd with the skills of an experienced M.B.A., worked on an assembly line at a hearing-aid factory in the Midwest. Jasmin St. Clair, here to tout her upcoming role as a human pincushion in a 300-man gang-bang flick, claims to be a recent graduate of Columbia University. Others come from backgrounds of appalling ignorance, such as the 18-year-old from Georgia whom director Mike Carpenter had to reassure that she could not get pregnant from performing anal sex in his upcoming Hot Tight Asses film.

Beneath the silhouette of his trademark black hat, Max Steiner, a/k/a Max Hardcore, roams the convention hall with an entourage of European press photographers in tow. In France, pornophiles accord Hardcore the same respect and admiration French film critics lavish on Jerry Lewis. Trailed by this fawning band of Euro-weenies, Hardcore pursues his main goal: finding new talent for his sphincter-punishing films.

"What we have at this year's CES," Hardcore observes, "is more fresh pussy than a Catholic girls' school."

Hardcore goes on to explain his directorial technique for getting the most out of new talent. "In the old days, I used to be a bad boy because I didn't know how to handle the broads. But over the years, I've perfected my approach. You have to realize that money is not the best motivator of chicks—it's fame. They want to be stars."

"First, I tell them about all the people who are going to see them, how fame will enable them to travel around the world, see things they've never seen before. Second, when I start with them on the set, I always tell them that I'm not the star; she's the star. The key is to make her feel like the most important person in the world. My third rule is, 'Thou shalt keep the bitches fed.' When chicks don't eat, they get cranky. Sounds minor, but experience has taught me this is extremely important. A fed girl is a happy girl. On the set, I always have a lot of food, lots of breaks, lots of rests in between. If you follow this, you'll have them licking your asshole in no time."

"Once I started to work by these rules, I found I could do anything to a chick—come on her face, piss in her mouth, whatever. We just did a blistering scene with a chick named Ilyana. After I finished reaming her out, I cracked an egg on her teeth and jammed it down her throat. That got the crew laughing so hard, the camera man couldn't hold the camera steady."

"When it's all over, the whole crew stands for a round of applause, and we give the girl a hug."

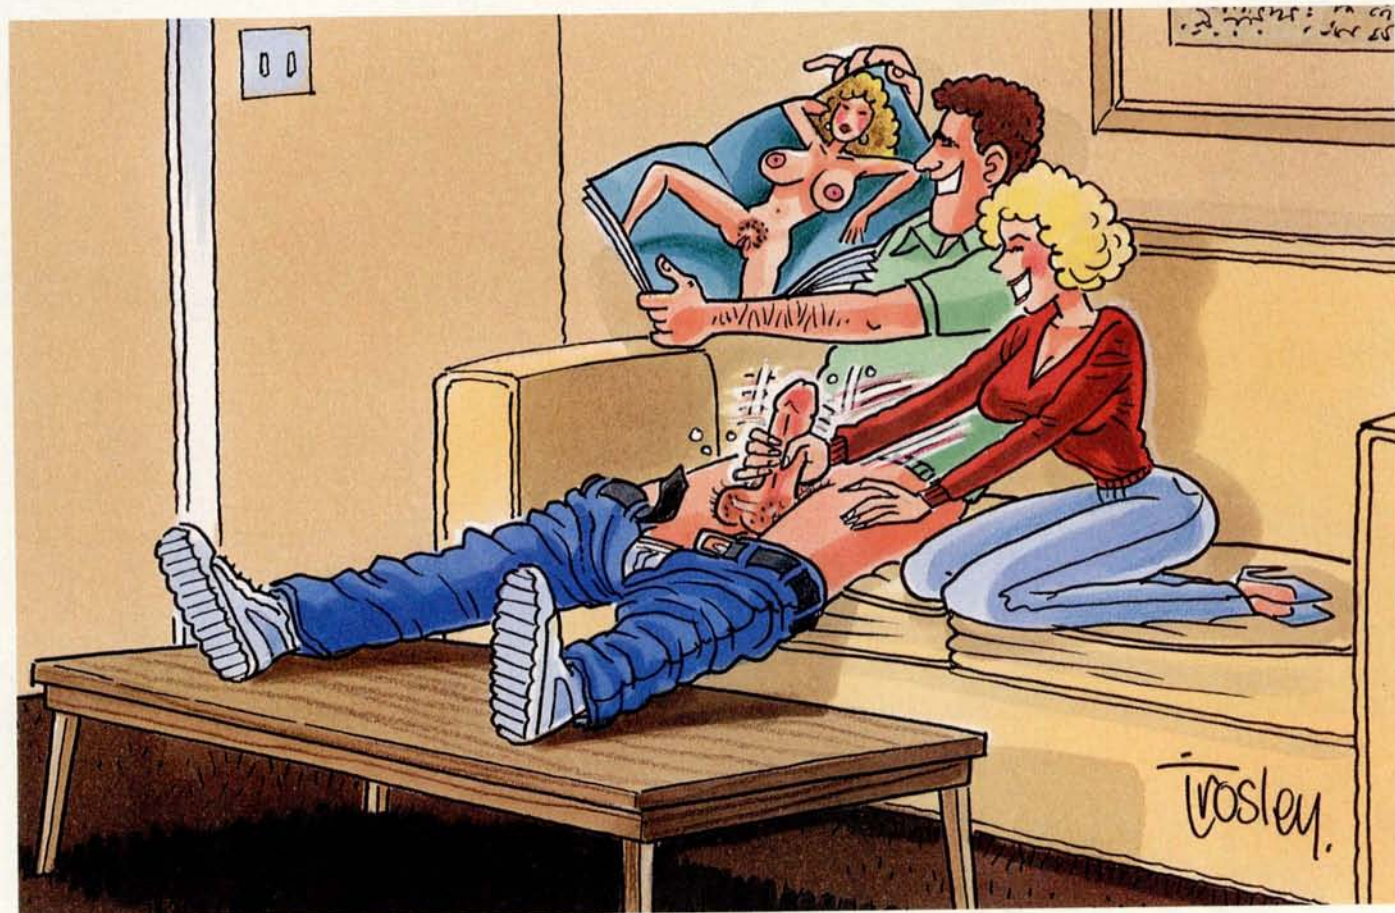

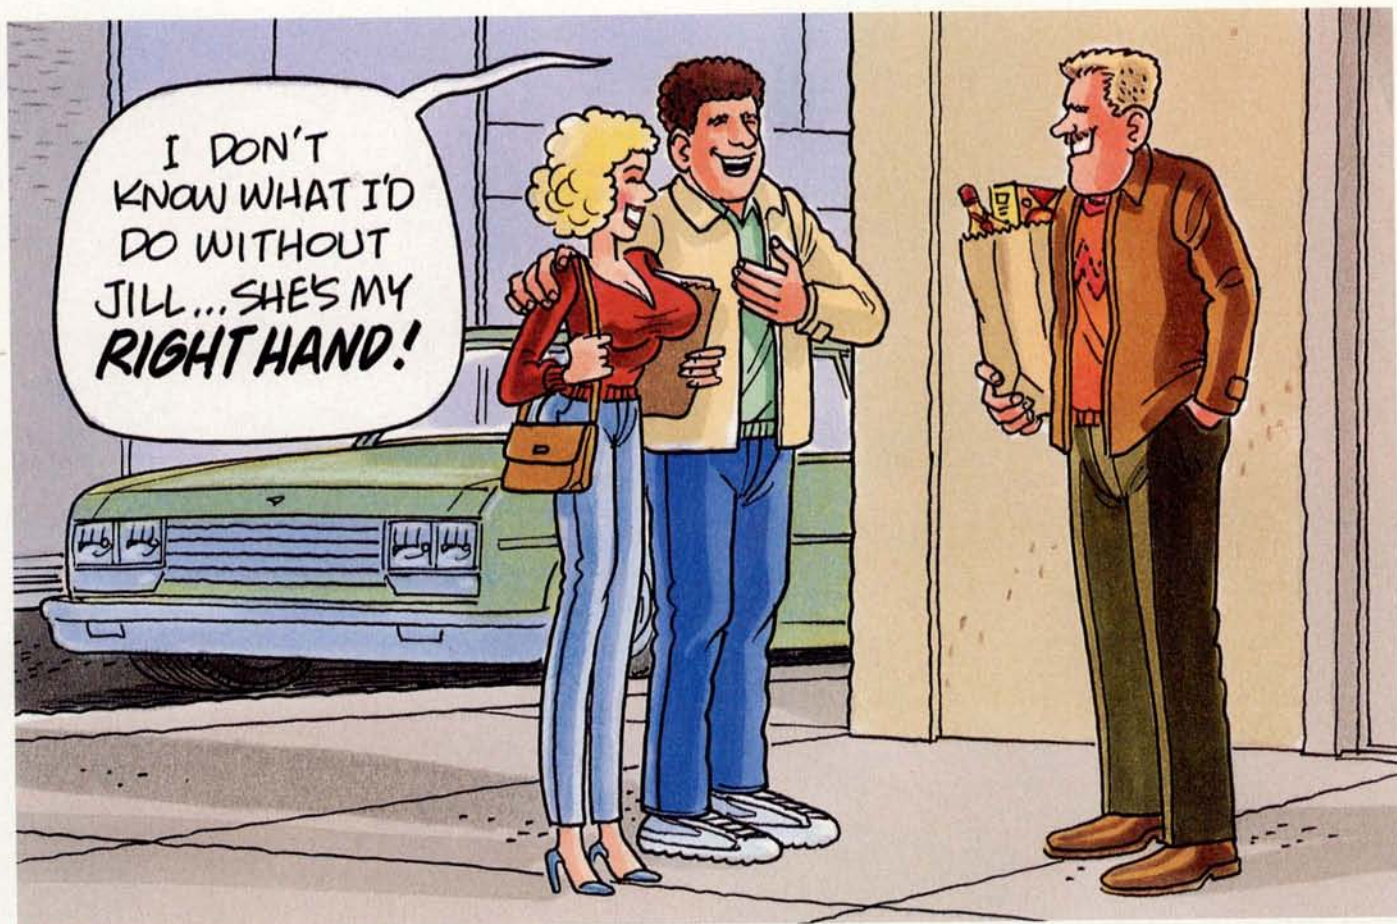

Hardcore also explains the importance of keeping his fingernails neatly clipped and rounded so that he doesn't damage any tissue when fingering and fisting vaginas and assholes.

Lovette, a curvaceous blonde with an uncanny resemblance to Barbara Eden in her I Dream of Jeannie prime, draws an enormous, especially frantic crowd of male fans to her booth. Perhaps her recent appearance in several Max Hardcore films has indeed made her a star. She pitches her next film to a motley band of autograph seekers with the smoothness and aplomb of a snake-oil salesman: "If you

Two-Part Harmony

"To sing backups for a rock-'n'-roll band, you gotta have more than just a great body and tons of permed hair," declares Tori, a sizzling brunette on tour with a heavy-metal group. "The key is timing. My partner, Lexus, and I always come in together on the exact same note."

Lexus flips locks of platinum hair away from her face and forcefully presses warm, full lips to the back of Tori's neck, eliciting low murmurs of pleasure. Tori swivels and takes a meaty orb into her mouth, her tongue tracing circles around a straining, rock-hard nip.

The songs aren't the girls' only guide. "I can see when the time is right," Lexus whispers. "First, Tori's eyes close slowly, and then her lower lip purses. When her chest begins to heave slightly with a quick intake of breath, I know she's about to hit a high note."

Lexus wiggles a finger into her wet whistle. "That's when I belt one out myself."

LIGHTS...CAMERA...EARN HALF A GRAND...WIN $5,000 BEAVER HUNT VIDEO CONTEST IS ON!

HUSTLER sounded the call for women of every race, creed and color to take it all off, grab a video camera and show a nation what they're made of. America responded with a deluge of entries for the Beaver Hunt Video Contest. Now it's your chance to make $500 and take a shot at the $5,000 Grand Prize. Simply throw a VHS tape into the camcorder and capture your Beaver doing what Beaver does best—whether it's fucking, masturbating, being shaved, being sucked, or simply looking pretty. The only limits are your kinky imagination! All participants must fill out the Model Release Form on the next page (make photocopies of the Form for friends if activities turn to group sex). Be sure to include photocopies of two forms of identification for everyone on camera, and send entries to Beaver Hunt Video Contest, 8484 Wilshire Boulevard, Suite 900, Beverly Hills, CA 90211. The hottest tapes of the finest ladies will be included in the upcoming Beaver Hunt Video series, and the winning gals receive $500—not to mention that $5,000 reward for the Grand Prize Winner. If you've got what it takes to light up the Beaver screen, then let the cameras roll—the video Hunt is on!

CES When Blotch Face reaches Lovette, he stares wordlessly. His eyes blink. Shrugging, Lovette signs the photo and hands it to him. Instead of taking the picture, he reaches out and squeezes her tit as if testing a grapefruit.

don't like hard-core; if you only like soft, lovey-dovey movies, you won't like this. It's very, very dirty. Very, very nasty."

In line to see Lovette stands a lone, middle-aged pervert in beige, loose-fitting, polyester slacks. A red blotch—a birthmark, scar or rash—in the shape of a jellyfish covers his nose and cheeks. When Blotch Face reaches Lovette to receive a signed photograph, he stares wordlessly. His eyes blink repeatedly as if he'd just stepped into daylight after a six-hour jerkathon at the Pussycat theater.

Shrugging, Lovette signs the photo and hands it to him. Instead of taking the picture, he reaches out and squeezes her tit as if testing a grapefruit at the supermarket.

"Do not touch me." Lovette puts out both hands and pushes him away as easy as moving a piece of furniture.

Blotch Face stands back and stares, his grin wobbling into a perplexed frown as he wrestles with a dilemma: He is confronted with Lovette, that piece of ass he's jerked off to so many times in his favorite videos. On screen, the piece of ass gets fucked, slapped, gang-banged, sodomized and sometimes spit on. When it's over, the piece of ass always comes up smiling, asking for more. But when he meets the piece of ass in person, it shouts at him and bosses him around—just like real women.

Blotch Face serenely walks off, a hint of a smile creeping across his oddly disfigured mug. He returns several times that day, trying variations of the same titte-squeezing approach and meeting with the same result each time.

Toward the end of the last day, Jeanna Fine, veteran of hundreds of spank films, throws her arms around a Japanese businessman while his gray-suited associates snap pictures. In a red-satin gown, Fine towers over the foreigners like a statue on a pedestal. She poses with each one, and when it's over, the Japanese bow and thank her profusely in the manner of polite and respectful perverts. Still bowing, they walk off in a tight cluster.

Fine lights a cigarette beneath a large NO SMOKING sign. Her coal-black eyes, sharp and appraising, look out at the sea of milquetoasts flowing past. "All I can say is, thank God for all their little hard-ons. They're paying for my house."

In the carnival atmosphere prevailing on the floor, it's easy to forget why the world's electronics makers invite the world's pornographers to their trade show each year: Porn sells their products.

The corporate giants are betting that pornographic software, such as the interactive CD-ROMs now being produced by the adult-video industry, will entice consumers to buy the multimedia computers and virtual-reality systems that are the latest in "home entertainment." Judging by the popularity of the porn chicks at the CES, Big Business is betting right. For most American men, the ultimate in "home entertainment" is a willing chick with a wet pussy. If the flesh-and-blood variety is unavailable, a good electronic facsimile is the next best thing.

Porn chicks may make only a few hundred dollars a day working as human fuck dolls in front of a camera, but from their open pussies spring forth industries worth billions. While the general public may view porn professionals with a mixture of contempt and pity, on the floor of the CES, mookish Americans from all walks of life line up to see the stars. 🍌

Schurrie is a 34-year-old homemaker from Cromwell, Indiana. Painting her fingernails is one of her favorite pastimes. Nude reading is another. Her sexual fantasy is to expose herself naked to men from all over the world. As her dream comes true, the sight of her twat will have men everywhere seeing red.

Julie is a 24-year-old manager from Methuen, Massachusetts, who is quite definite about her favorite pastimes. These are shopping, sunbathing and swimming. Concerning her erotic fantasies, she says nothing, but her picture—butt-out naked against a dungeon wall—speaks a thousand words, all of them filthy. Readers may lash her pale, white fanny as often as they like, with their eyes.

Raven is a 21-year-old art major from Athens, Georgia. She unwinds and stays fit with a variety of outdoor hobbies—including hiking, biking and public exhibitionism. Privately, she fantasizes about owning a female love slave to service her every whim. If Raven had a love slave all her own, she promises she would keep her well fed on a steady diet of hot, dripping pussy sauce. That Raven sure can cook.

Splash hails from Lake Orion, Michigan. She's a 21-year-old who makes a living from her legs as a dancer. When she's on her back, Splash gets wet dreaming of doing it with her man on a cable car in the mountains. Even without the mountains or the cable car, this gal's got everything she needs to make a splash right between her legs.

This 29-year-old sales associate from York, Pennsylvania, goes by the name of Pussycat. Her hobbies—jogging, aerobics and dance—are all wiggle-oriented, but what makes her purr is the thought of mating by a pool. Pussycat may have sharp claws, but she's soft and furry in all the right places.

Toledo, Ohio, is home to this 21-year-old student and exotic dancer named Tricia. She fantasizes about making love on the beach in the middle of a hot, sunny day. Shown here on a rumpled bed with balled-up panties by her fist and a pearl necklace slanting across her bare chest, Tricia demonstrates that fun can be had away from the beach too. All that's needed is a man to keep her in pearl necklaces.

Danielle is in for a spanking. This Jacksonville, Florida, housewife turns 26 this month and is shown here modeling the lower half of her birthday suit. If Danielle's husband is wondering what to do to mark the occasion, he could make her erotic dreams come true by taking her out on a boat and screwing her all day long. There's no need for a cake as long as Danielle's serving the tasty, dark chocolate treat she keeps between her legs. All her husband needs to do is stick in his candle and squirt it with frosting.

Mystique, 23 years old, is a full-time retail assistant manager in Chelsea, Massachusetts. She likes to read. She likes to dance. Her dream is to have her slender, tattooed body published nude in a magazine. Sometimes, dreams come true; this dream comes to the name of Mystique.

Insurance against any threat of drought in the Northeast, this Brewford, Connecticut, native named Harley manages to stay wet most of the time. A retail worker by day, Harley spends her off-hours engaged in water sports. "When it rains, it pours!" is how she sums up her sex play. Anyone who takes Harley out for a spin is in for a soaking.

he goes for another walk, then retires at nine p.m. Several days a week, a nurse tends to him. Occasionally, he gets a visit from his oldest child, Jerry Lynn, who lives nearby.

In 1992, a group of Colorado "sportsmen" persuaded Jerry to fight again. "They convinced him he had to get in shape so they could make a movie on his life," James says. "They told him footage of the fight would be used for the movie. He was supposed to get $2,500. They got a local fighter in Denver to beat a name fighter [Jerry] and sell a lot of tickets. Jerry wound up getting points deducted for low blows, got his teeth knocked out and was only paid $1,000.

"That fight was what pushed Jerry over the cliff," he adds. "After that, if we went into a restaurant and left a minute apart, Jerry couldn't find the car."

During the 1994 Christmas season, the Quarry family had a reunion in California. Jack was devastated at Mike's and Jerry's condition. "I hadn't seen them in ten years," he says. "I started cursing myself for letting them get involved in boxing. If I knew those boys would ever have these troubles, they would never have got involved. I had never seen punch-drunk fighters before. I thought they were all like Maxie 'Slapsie' Rosenbloom, who talked like he had a mouthful of biscuit, but had all his senses." Rosenbloom is a former light-heavyweight champion who had a successful movie career after boxing, often playing lovable but dim punch-drunk ex-pugs.

Visited at his church in the spring of 1995, Mike Quarry is happy and grateful for a wonderful marriage and a solid faith in the Lord. He walks around the grounds looking for a lawn edger. He can't remember where he put it last and worries that he'll have to pay for it out of his check. As he commences his umpteenth search, he pauses to muse on his brother.

"Jerry wanted so bad to please my father," he recalls. "He'd do anything. One time, Jerry got real sick in high school and went to school for half days. My father called him a mama's boy, a wimp. Jerry was really hurt." Unable to find the lost edger, Mike places the fate of the older brother he adored: "As a boxer, he took the same whippings he took as a boy."

contemplative about life and success: "I don't think anyone accomplishes all of their goals. I was raised in poverty and always wanted to be wealthy, which I accomplished. Other than that, I've got to be happy with what I've got."

HUSTLER: In these plush surroundings, how do you stay in touch with the concerns of your average reader?

FLYNT: I rely on my Editors a great deal; they have a tremendous amount of autonomy. I offer input where I feel it's appropriate, but all the Editors pretty much do what they want.

HUSTLER: Does HUSTLER still make you laugh? Do the pictorials excite you?

FLYNT: Yes to both questions.

HUSTLER: Over the years, you've enjoyed access to more beautiful women than even the Rolling Stones. What's your sex life today?

FLYNT: I'm still turned on by the same things I was 20 years ago. Actually, I can't have sex in the traditional sense, due to physical limitations, but I still have a sex life. I didn't when I was on medication, but now that the pain's gone, things are very good. As far as the past, with all those different women—all I've got left are my memories, and that's pretty good.

HUSTLER: Do you have any sexual fantasies you've yet to live out?

FLYNT: Believe me, I've acted out all of my sexual fantasies. The ones most people will always just fantasize about, I did.

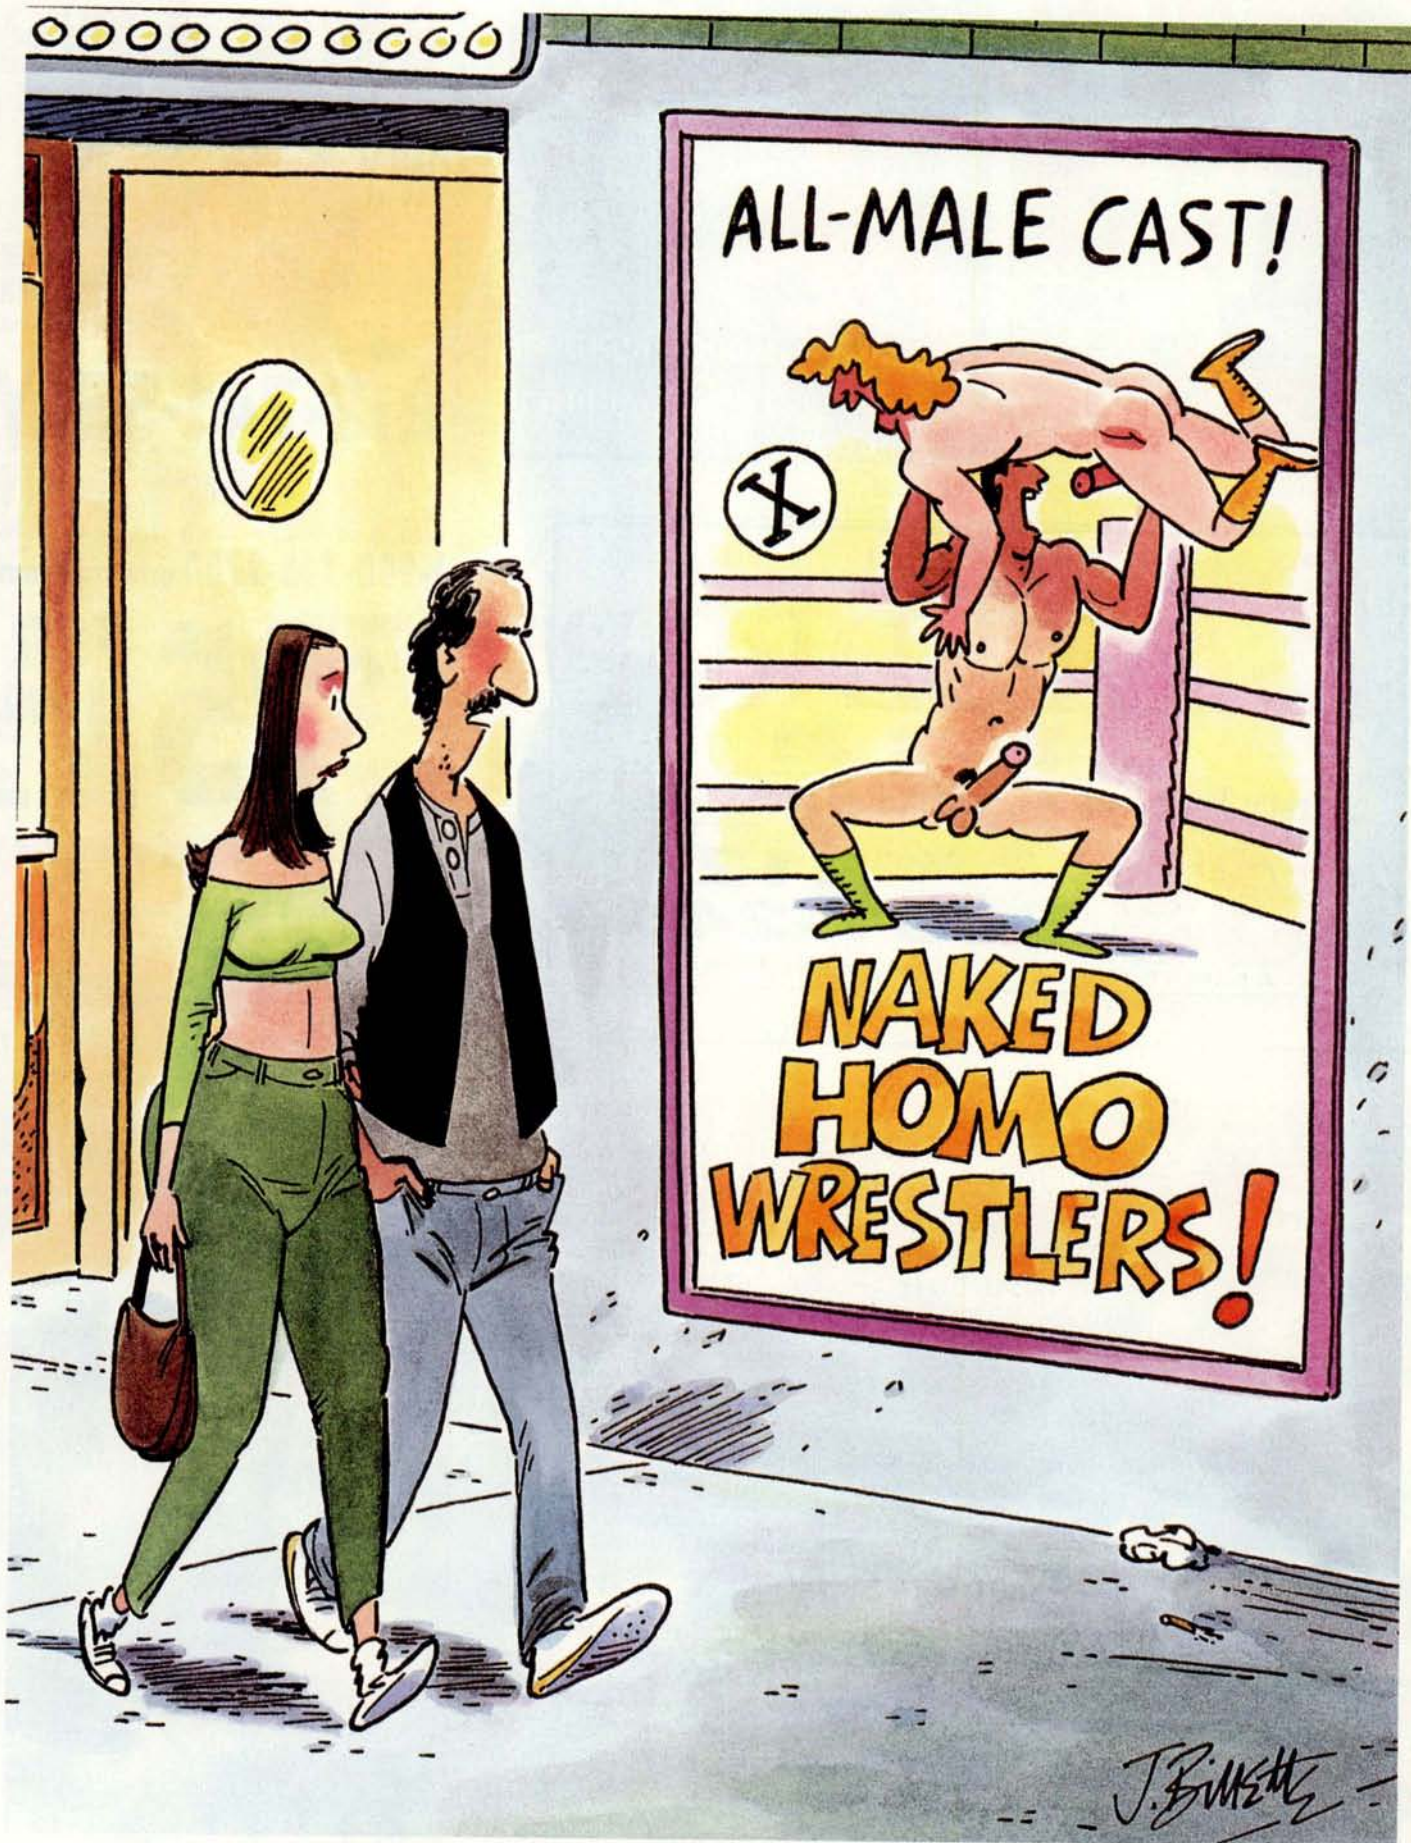

HUSTLER: What kind of woman would it take for you to get married again?

FLYNT: I don't know. I might get married again someday.

HUSTLER: When running for President in 1984, your stated goal was "the elimination of ignorance and venereal disease." What would your goal be today?

FLYNT: To end the attack on individual rights. For 200 years, the Church has had its hand on our crotch. Government is exceedingly moving in that direction. I think Americans lose sight of individual rights and what our Constitution means: an unrestricted right of free choice. Democracy only works if that promise is being considered. You can't have five wolves and one sheep voting on what to cook for supper. That individual has to have rights. The issue is not whether Larry Flynt has the right to sell his magazine; it's whether John Smith has the right to buy the magazine. As long as there's one person in the world who wants HUSTLER, he should be able to buy it. And Larry Flynt should be able to publish it.

"Oh, yeah—I'm sure Siskel and Ebert gave that two thumbs up."

MAKE YOUR OWN PENIS BIGGER than HUGE!

A NEW LOW PRICE FOR A PENIS
ENLARGEMENT & ERECTION BUILDING SYSTEM!

It's impossible to fail when using the HYPER-PUMP! It's the easiest way yet to LENGTHEN, FATTEN & STIFFEN your penis to new startling proportions! See photos below.

HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, YES!
EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

HOW TO BUILD A GIANT PENIS!

If you've wanted to be the man that amazes women . . .
the envy of other men because of their massive male organ . . . if you've ever craved a long, curving penis that hangs down beyond your balls along your thigh, there's only one sure-fire way to achieve your desires!
Millions of men know how huge their penis can be thanks to regular use of vacuum development. And now, at a reasonable cost you can share this exciting experience!

NEW HYPER-PUMP TAKES YOUR PENIS TO A NEW DIMENSION!

On your first use of the new HYPER-PUMP you'll watch your penis expand in thickness until the skin is stretched tight and your veins are vividly exposed! You'll watch in astonishment as your organ stretches out further . . .
and further than you've ever imagined it could. You'll see right away, without any doubt, that despite its low cost, the HYPER-PUMPS really work . . .

and work fast to make your penis incredibly bigger!

COST SO MUCH LESS THAN OTHER PUMPS! WORKS BETTER TOO!

You may have seen deluxe pumps costing $50 . . .
$75 . . . $100 . . . even as much as $300! The fact is all pumps work on the same principle so why pay more for expensive advertising! The HYPER-PUMPS were designed for men who want fast, first-class results for a reasonable price. They are engineered for ease of use, with the fewest possible parts (nothing to break or wear out), light in weight, but exceptionally durable.
And best of all the regular model HYPER-PUMP costs only $14.50! Or you may order the SLIM-JIM or deluxe ELECTRIC models for just a little more!

See photos and videos demonstrating an actual increase of 5 inches! The only complete penis enlargement system including step by-step instructions used successfully for 20 years with more than 5 Million men!

PENIS ENLARGEMENT

MAKE YOUR PENIS HARDER, THICKER, WITH ERECT MEASUREMENTS UP TO 12 INCHES OR YOUR MAXIMUM POTENTIAL!

The following photos dramatically demonstrate an actual case history before and after using our powerful Penis Pump. The man demonstrating these increases is Chris Parker. His height is 5'9", and his weight is 135 lbs. The pump can be used by any man of any age, any height or weight for a longer, thicker, harder penis.

Before using the Penis Pump, Chris' penis is thin and small, about 3 inches

In this photo, Chris inserts his small penis into the pump.

Above, Chris has grown 2 to 3 inches but has not reached his maximum potential

Chris shows you his penis without the pump. There is a remarkable increase, but he can still grow and reach his maximum.

Look at Chris now! See how much longer, thicker and harder his penis is!

In this photo, Chris almost fills the entire pump. He is much thicker and 10 inches long!

A close-up look at Chris' thicker, longer, harder penis.

Even without an erection after using the pump, Chris' penis is much thicker and longer.

Our Penis Developer will increase penis length, thickness and make your erection harder and stiffer. Complete step-by-step instructions on our video and magazine. Do not accept any substitute. This is the original How-To-Penis Enlargement System developed over 20 years ago.

BRAND NEW METHOD & VIDEO!
THE ONLY WAY THAT REALLY WORKS!

the Right Way to ENLARGE your PENIS

There's a lot more to it than just pumping it up!

SECRETS OF SUCCESS DEMONSTRATED IN EXACT, STEP-BY-STEP DETAIL

ERECTION BEFORE

ERECTION AFTER MEGA-10

ERECTION BEFORE

ERECTION AFTER MEGA-10

You'll see top XXX-stars going through this new system and enjoying their huge size with their partners! You'll see such demonstrations as:

- How to increase size and staying power at the same time!
- How to develop the ability to climax without cumming - and maintain a full erection for continued sex!
- How to develop the internal muscles that make your penis thrust out and up as never before!
- How the three different shapes of penises affect sex!
- Why pumping up by itself doesn't work!
- How long it will take to show a measurable difference.
- A secret of immediate size increase any man can use anytime for instant results!
- The equipment you'll need... how often to use the system... the important side benefits of the system... how women feel about male genital size... much, much more!

UNIQUE FOUR-STEP SYSTEM VITAL TO SUCCESS!

If you've ever dreamed of seeing your penis grow as much as several inches longer and thicker... probing new depths of ecstasy within your partner... stretching aroused openings to the limit as few men ever have, this extraordinary 4-way system is your ticket to success! But pumping up with a vacuum device is not enough! Unless you know and use ALL 4 PARTS of this proven system, you'll never see how really huge your penis can get! Now, for the first time, everything you need to do is shown, step-by-step on this exciting video!

CASE HISTORIES PROVE THIS SYSTEM WORKS WHERE OTHERS FAIL!

Doctors measured and recorded giant increases in both length and thickness in men who carefully followed this system. (There was no improvement noted in the men using other enlargement techniques.)

- Youth of 19, grows 2.4 longer, 2.3 thicker!
- Man aged 60, gains over 2.6 in length and circumference!
- 36-year old develops 2.4 in length, almost 2 in girth!
- Man of 61, 2.7 length increase, 3.1 in girth!
- 58-year old documented 2.8 length increase, 2 1/2 around!
- 3.1 length increase for 20 year old; 2.2 around!

JUST USING A VACUUM PUMP IS NOT ENOUGH!

Yes, a vacuum pump is essential to increasing penis size. But pumping up is only one-fourth of the secret to success. Without all four parts in place, in order, properly used, you are probably doomed to failure. This is the first video that takes you step-by-step through the only enlargement system ever proven to really work. That's why we call it THE RIGHT WAY TO ENLARGE YOUR PENIS! Regular $29.95 only $18.95

HUSTLER

SUN GODDESSES

In August when the sun god reigns supreme in the sky, an unearthly gathering of flesh goddesses convenes in the pages of the new HUSTLER. Pay them tribute with liquid-pearl offerings from your loins. Silk-skinned lesbians, a blonde and a brunette, tongue-worship the pink temples of pleasure between their legs; a honey-blonde explores the treasures of her quim on satin sheets; a golden-haired harlot exposes herself to filthy-minded strangers at a downtown diner; a beachside babe with cream-complexioned gams kneels before a stud and honors his hardened rod with her mouth and nectar-covered slit; a statuesque slattern with a leonine mane of red hair and monumental chest orbs presents herself as the image of heavenly sleaze in garters and thigh-high black boots. For the best of summer, look no further than the August HUSTLER.

SOCIAL ECLIPSES

Is America tearing apart at the seams? Not since the Civil War have secessionist sentiments run so high across the land. Today, radio talk shows in Colorado, Hawaii, Alaska and other western states are flooded with calls from angry listeners who'd like to see their states secede from a federal government that's increasingly viewed as incompetent, over-taxing and out of touch. Northern Californians have launched a drive to break off from Southern California. Even white-supremacist and black-nationalist movements are finding common ground in their mutual aim to establish "racially pure" homelands. Will America remain a single nation, indivisible and united? Find out in HUSTLER correspondent Gregory Daurer's report, If at First You Don't Secede.

HEAT FLARES

Dr. Snakeskin, a/k/a Darius James, best-selling author of Young Girls and Where to Buy Them, takes a comic look at successful and not-so-successful techniques available to black men in their hunt for "devil white girls with the big Playboy titties" in The Blackman's Guide to Seducing White Women With the Amazing Power of Voodoo—an excerpt from his latest book, That's Blackploitation! (St. Martin's Griffin Press, New York).

SIZZLERS

In August's Sex Play, correspondent Leonard Schnieder asks the age-old question, "Female Friends: Why Bother?" and comes up with some surprising, compelling conclusions; Bits & Pieces presents Newt Gingrich and Bob Dole in their first double-penetration of the Statue of Liberty; Erotic Entertainment gets down-and-dirty with the latest porn videos; and in Beaver Hunt, the wives of August spread their meat.
